PRIMITIVE LAND OF FUN-LOVING PEOPLE

Laos Is Potential Communist Corridor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: What is the outlook in Southeast Asia? Here is an appraisal from a correspondent who has worked in all three countries involved in the current crisis —Laos, Viet Nam and Thailand. The writer is chief of the Associated Press Bureau at Hong Kong. He is on home leave.

By ROY ESSOYAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States has drawn two lines through the jungles, swamplands and rugged mountains of politically explosive Southeast Asia.

One line is on the frontier of South Viet Nam. The other is on the frontier of Thailand.

There is a big gap between these lines, and they don't look too defensible. But the United States seemingly has little choice but to defend them if the advance of Communist forces is to be stopped in Southeast Asia at this late stage.

The lines have one slim factor in their favor. The areas behind them are run by anti-Communist governments that are still pro-Western.

Little landlocked Laos, the area in between the two lines, is a hole that could turn into a Communist corridor. But there are signs the U.S. government today regards Laos as indefensible.

For a year the United States has been trying to settle for a neutral coalition government in Laos. With two-thirds of the country overrun by pro-Communist forces, any such coalition will be heavily weighted in favor of the Communists. That seems to make a pro-Communist Laos, almost inevitable eventually.

"How did we get into such a mess? What are we doing in Southeast Asia anyway? And what can we salvage now?"

These are the questions the average American may ask, and cannot answer, although he is one of the most literate citizens in the world.

The average citizen of the three countries most directly affected—Laos, South Viet Nam and Thailand —lacks the foggiest idea of what's going on.

Most of them have never seen a newspaper or heard a radio. The majority of the people of Laos don't know the name of their country or that it has been independent seven years.

Laos, the most primitive of these three countries, has practically no telephones, hardly any roads. The people, except for a few hardy mountain tribesmen, are gentle, fun-loving and easy-going.

The last thing they want to do is fight. That is why they break and run when better disciplined pro-Communist guerrillas launch the smallest of offensives.

The people of South Viet Nam are as fun-loving and easygoing as their neighbors. They take their three-hour siestas, too, war or no war. They live in the tropics, so they have to.

But they're bright, intelligent and far more adaptable than their neighbors. Some say it's because of Chinese blood in their veins, going back a thousand years.

American military advisers say the Viet Namese, who knew no English and hadn't handled a modern military weapon until a few years ago, are handling both with commendable ability today.

But until American GIs started pouring into the country last January, the U.S. presence in South Viet

A DEER LITTLE ORPHAN AT SCHOOL

Better than Mary's little lamb was the visitor to Marindale School in Terra Linda this week: Terry, a 5-week-old orphan fawn which was found three weeks ago on Shoreline Highway between Muir Beach and Stinson Beach. George Holmboe, Mount Tamalpais State Park supervisor, is raising Terry—on a diet of evaporated and concentrated milk—and plans to set him free when he grows up. Mrs. Holmboe took the fawn to visit the school, where she teaches. He is given his "formula" by Tim Fahey, 3-year-old pupil. (Independent-Journal photo)

Auto Thieves Hit Marin —7 Taken Overnight

Car thieves have been working overtime in San Rafael and Corte Madera with seven thefts reported by police in the two cities since yesterday morning.

An eighth car was stripped of its entire transmission in a San Rafael parking lot.

At 8:45 a.m. yesterday, Natalie Woodford Hodgson of 1056 Los Gamos in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael reported her 1961 Ford convertible taken from her carport during the night.

Less than two hours later, Emil R. Bettini of 130 Valley View, San Rafael, reported his 1961 Pontiac stolen from a parking place on E Street between Fifth Avenue and Fourth Street. The car was found at 5:15 p.m. on H Street between Fourth and Fifth.

At 5:30 p.m., a 1959 Buick registered to William Long of 60 Stuyvesant Street, San Anselmo, was reported stolen while parked in front of Stenstrom Buick Garage at 502 Francisco Boulevard awaiting repairs.

In its place was a 1954 Ford with 1961 registration tabs, which was traced to Joseph Rossi of 2212 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. Rossi said he did not know his car was missing until notified by police.

Shortly after 2 a.m. today, Zeno Gelatti of 1563 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, manager of the Country Club Bowl, reported his 1957 Cadillac had been taken while he was at the bowling lanes at 88 Vivian Way.

Corte Madera police reported finding a stolen 1957 Chevrolet four-door sedan parked near Marin Municipal Water District headquarters in the Fifer Industrial Tract yesterday at 5:30 p.m. The car was

Building Shutdown Off To Slow Start

A threatened shutdown of the building industry by employers in 46 Northern California counties was off to a slow start in Marin County today.

Norman Campbell, business representative of Carpenters Union Local 35, said only 60 carpenters had been affected by the shutdown. At least 1,400 carpenters in the county went to work as usual today, he said.

"Independent contractors are not going along with the shutdown order," Campbell said. "They are respecting their agreements with us." Carpenters' contracts with the employers expire at the end of this month.

The shutdown was called last Friday by the Associated General Contractors after 10 days of spot picketing of jobs in the northern part of the state by the Hodcarriers and Common Laborers Union. Supporting the association shutdown were the Homebuilders Assn., Inc., and the Excavating and Grading Contractors Assn.

Unfair labor practice charges were being filed today with the National Labor Relations Board by the Marin Building Trades Council as well as labor councils as far north as Eureka.

"We are filing on behalf of all locals who might have members locked out by the employer shutdown," said George R. Scott, Marin council president. Scott said electricians had been allowed by the AGC to return to jobs despite the shutdown because of their agreement with individual contractors guaranteeing wages as long as work is available.

Joining the negotiations today was the Builders Exchange Contractors Council of Marin, made up of members of the exchange who employ the five basic crafts.

About 75 members of the Builders Exchange attended a meeting last night at the Wye Club in San Rafael at which it was decided to set up a parallel negotiating entity, reported Douglas Roberts, exchange

County Airport Gets Money From State

Marin County Airport north of Novato will receive $2,500 this month from a new state program which makes $350,000 a year available to local public airports from gasoline tax money collected.

Alan Bruce, county administrator, said the county has matched the money, as required, and will use it to build a new access road to the airport from Highway 101 north of the present road.

Flood Control Funds Asked By Rep. Miller

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) asked the House Appropriations Committee today for funds to permit Army Engineers to begin designing the proposed 5.7-million-dollar Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

Miller recommended appropriation of $150,000 to start engineering design work on the project, contingent upon early congressional authorization of the project this year.

While testifying before the committee Miller recommended funds for work during the coming fiscal year on the following additional projects or surveys of interest to Marin County.

1. To begin an Army Engineer survey of how best to provide flood control for Coyote creek near Mill Valley, and other streams tributary to

Troops Landing In Thailand; U.S. Asks Help From Allies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The United States started landing reinforcements in Thailand today and asked five of its allies to join in the military buildup against the Communist threat to Southeast Asia.

As the United States moved to bolster anti-Communist defenses in Thailand, Communist China's propaganda outlets erell Harriman, assistant secwarned that the Red Chinese "cannot remain indifferent" to the American actions.

In Washington, American officials said Australia, New Zealand, Britain, Pakistan, and the Philippines had been asked for small forces to join in the Southeast Asia defense plan.

The U.S. request was put before representatives of the five countries yesterday by W. Avretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

$3.4 Million Harbor At Bolinas Supported As 'Money, Life Saver'

A $3,400,000 harbor at Bolinas was advocated as "a special life and money saving project" today at a public hearing by the Army Corps of Engineers in the Bolinas Community Center.

No voice was raised against the project.

The harbor is proposed as a federal development, under Corps of Engineers auspices. Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), in a letter read by Gene McDaniel, president of the Bolinas Harbor District, expressed hope for a federal appropriation for the project in 1964. Miller called the proposed harbor an asset to San Francisco Bay and the projected Point Reyes National Seashore.

A 26-page report prepared for the harbor district by John A. Blume and Associates, San Francisco engineering firm, was was ready by Blume and one of his assistants to open the hearing, presided over by Col. John A. Morrison, San Francisco District engineer.

The harbor, at the foot of Bolinas Lagoon, was described in Blume's report as an essential refuge harbor, a haven for boats escaping storms on the Pacific or unable to enter a fogbound Golden Gate. He called it "a special life and money saving project."

It would not be a money-

Senate Beefs Up Estes Probe As Ex-California Aide Fired

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate pumped more juice into its investigation of the crackling Billie Sol Estes case today as another government aide—James T. Ralph—was fired for his connections with the free-wheeling financier.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, himself bombarded by Republican demands that he resign, dismissed Ralph yesterday, saying an FBI investigation showed that Estes had paid some of Ralph's telephone bills.

Ralph, a Kennedy administration appointee stepped down last February as an assistant secretary of agriculture to train as an agriculture attache in the Philippines.

He said his firing was unjustified and came as a complete surprise. He said he planned to issue a statement later.

In his year as assistant secretary, Ralph was in charge of the department's crop-control, price-support and grain-storage programs.

Today, the Senate Investigations subcommittee put into high gear its probe of Estes, who built a business empire on the quicksand of government farm programs and on "buy now, pay later" credit.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the subcommittee, disclosed he had subpoenaed Estes for questioning about alleged influence deals with government officials.

He also announced he was throwing "a dozen more investigators, maybe more," into the widening investigation.

The Senate group expects to begin hearings late this month.

Estes has been indicted on federal and state fraud charges. His relationships with members of Congress and government officials are under scrutiny by two congressional investigating groups and four grand juries. He has declared himself bankrupt.

Ralph, 36, a former Tennessee farm boy, is the second Agriculture Department official to be fired in the Estes case. A third resigned.

The highest ranking official to be hit by the fast-moving, politically charged storm was Assistant Secretary of Labor Jerry R. Holleman, who resigned last Friday after disclosing he had accepted a gift of $1,000 from fellow Texan and Democrat Estes.

Ralph has been under investigation by the FBI since his name first cropped up in testimony in Texas about Estes' gifts of clothing to government officials.

Ralph denied before the Texas Court of Inquiry that he received any clothing from Estes. He also denied that Estes received any favors from the Agriculture Department.

Three salesmen of Dallas' Nieman-Marcus men's shop testified Ralph had been fitted with two expensive suits and two pairs of shoes. The suits, without the customary labels on the inside pocket, were sent to Estes at a Washington hotel later, they said, and the shoes were delivered to Estes at the Dallas hotel where both Estes and Ralph were staying.

Ralph became the administration's staunchest advocate of what is called the self-help program for agriculture—the use of marketing orders to put agriculture's house in order. But in his zeal he had clashes of opinion with Freeman and reportedly that was why he was moved out as assistant secretary.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, campaigning for California's Republican gubernatorial nomination, tossed Ralph at Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown last night, saying he was "an alumnus of Pat Brown's college of political hacks."

In a statement in Los Angeles, Nixon declared that Brown's one-time director of agriculture "has now touched off the biggest national scandal since Teapot Dome."

In reply Brown said Ralph served as California's director for just 21 days before moving on to Washington. He added: "His service in my administration was as a respected career technician in agricultural marketing.

In other developments yesterday in the Estes case:

Sen. John G. Tower (R-Tex.), urged President John F. Kennedy to fire Freeman on the basis of what is known of the case already.

The president, without mentioning the Estes case or Tower's telegram, gave Freeman an indirect vote of confidence. He assigned Freeman to substitute for him as a speaker before the World Food Forum.

Kennedy sent the organization a message that "I could have found no one of stronger conviction or greater dedication to the national interest to take my place tonight than Secretary Freeman."

Miss Mary K. Jones, 51, a secretary in the Agriculture Department, told the Washington Star she did not know why she was whisked from her office to a psychiatric ward.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), had charged in a Senate speech that she was "railroaded for refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption in the agency" and held 12 days before being pronounced mentally sound. Freeman called Williams' charges preposterous.

In Amarillo, Tex., the Texas attorney general's office filed a civil antitrust suit against Estes and others, including the Commercial Solvents Corp.

The suit, in Federal District Court, accuses Estes and the other defendants of conspiracy to sell anhydrous ammonia fertilizer below cost to drive competitors out of business.

DISMISSED IN PROBE — James T. Ralph, former California director of agriculture, has been dismissed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in the investigation of the Billie Sol Estes scandal. French Government Shakeup: 5 Aides Quit, Generals Fired

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle's government today relieved two generals of their commands in its struggle against the terrorist Secret Army Organization, and five cabinet ministers resigned in a policy dispute over European political unity.

At the same time, the government authorized defense minister Pierre Messmer to draft all youths in Algeria from the ages of 19 to 21 into the army to remove them from OAS influence.

Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte announced that the two generals who were relieved were Gen. Henri Sauvagnac, commander of the Second Military Region at Lille; and Gen. Pierre Moneglia, who holds a command in the French Army in Germany.

The five cabinet ministers, all members of the Catholic Popular Republican Party (MRP), resigned because de Gaulle said yesterday he opposes the political integration of Western Europe — a key point of MRP policy.

Peyrefitte said General Sauvagnac was relieved "on account of actions by military personnel under his command." He did not expand on this.

He said General Moneglia was relieved following a recent tour of French Army bases in Germany by Col. Antoine Argoud, one of the top leaders of the OAS.

Salan Ready Wth His Life-Or-Death Speech

PARIS (UPI) — Former Gen. Raoul Salan appeared in a heavily guarded courtroom today for the second day of his treason trial, ready with an hour-long life-or-death speech on why he led the terrorist Secret Army Organization in its fight to keep Algeria French.

It was expected to be his one and only statement of the trial, and its effect on the special French high tribunal meeting in the Palais de Justice could determine whether France's most-decorated living soldier lives or dies.

Sources close to chief defense attorney Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt predicted that Salan would explain his role in the struggle of the OAS against the government of President Charles de Gaulle. Then he probably will lapse into silence for the remainer of the trial.

The statement was eagerly awaited because the government last year banned interviews with Salan and publication here of OAS announcements.

However, there was some doubt that Salan would get to make his statement today if his attorneys renewed their fight to delay the trial.

They claim they have not had sufficient time to prepare the defense.

OAS Lobs 15 Mortar Shells On Moslems

ALGIERS (UPI) — The outlawed Secret Army Organization today fired at least 15 mortar shells into the heavily populated Moslem Casbah quarter today and spread a new wave of terror across Algeria.

First reports from the Casbah said there were "several victims" but no exact casualty figures were immediately available there.

At least 26 persons were killed and 15 wounded by terrorists in other attacks in Algiers and the western port City of Oran, as the OAS moved through the second day of a campaign of retaliation for Monday's attacks on Europeans.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Astronaut Question Mark: Weather?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Astronaut Scott Carpenter eased through a successful dry run of his orbital mission yesterday to move one step closer to his Saturday date with space.

Carpenter

Space agency officials indicated they were well pleased with the dress rehearsal. They planned a more thorough look today at all phases of the mission—booster, capsule, astronaut, weather, and tracking and recovery operations.

Although any number of snags could develop during the critical checks remaining, things were pronounced in generally tip-top shape after the dummy mission yesterday. The big question mark was the weather.

There was a possibility that either rough seas near Bermuda or cloudy skies over the launching area could interfere with plans to rocket Carpenter toward his three-orbit journey Saturday.

Korea Anniversary

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) —South Korea's military regime today celebrated the first anniversary of its takeover, and strongman Gen. Park Chung Hee renewed his pledge to transfer the government to civilian leaders in the summer of 1963.

Park, chairman of the all-powerful ruling military junta and self-appointed president of the republic of Korea, said his regime had worked out a "magnificent" blueprint for the future.

Segregation Move

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department today asked a federal court to order officials of Bibb County, Ga., and the county's Democratic Party leaders to halt plans to require Negroes to use segregated voting machines.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the suit, filed in U.S. district court in Macon, Ga., was the first ever brought by the federal government challenging segregation in the actual physical conduct of elections.

Literacy Bill Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's voter literacy test bill has been laid to rest for this session, talked to death by Southern senators.

In its wake, civil rights advocates have promised another fight next session to change the Senate rules to make it easier to break filibusters.

After twice refusing to choke off debate—and thus force an end to Southern speeches against the measure—the Senate voted 49-34 late yesterday to put the literacy bill aside and proceed to other legislation.

Blizzard Kills Three

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—A flash blizzard, a weather rarity for this time of year, lashed a company of soldiers on night maneuvers on a high, bald ridge in the Chugach Mountains yesterday. Three died and nine others were hospitalized.

The troops, members of Company C of the 1st Battle Group of the 23rd Infantry at Ft. Richardson, were on a three-day mountain exercise about eight miles southeast of here.

The blizzard, packing winds of over 70 mph, caught the soldiers as they were crossing the crest of a 4,000-foot high ridge.

Macapagal Plans

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal will make state visits to Pakistan, Spain and Italy as scheduled even though he has indefinitely postponed his trip to the United States, it was announced today.

Judge Convicted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A jury of seven women and five men convicted Alameda Superior Court Judge Marvin Sherwin yesterday on six counts of income tax evasion and making false statements.

The jury deliberated three hours before finding the 60-year-old judge guilty. He was charged with evading taxes totaling $16,394 for the years 1954-5-6.

Judge Sherwin had no comment. His attorney moved for a new trial and a judgment for acquittal. In the event the new trial motion is turned down, Sherwin's attorney said he will appeal the conviction.

New Guinea War

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (UPI) — Dutch military headquarters here announced that 20 armed Indonesians wearing camouflage uniforms were intercepted and captured today by Dutch naval units when they attempted a landing near Fak Fak harbor.

An official communique said Dutch marines and infantrymen attacked a band of Indonesian Paratroopers six miles east of Fak Fak.

HERE'S RUNDOWN ON PRIMARY ELECTIONS

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here's a rundown on what happened in primary elections in three states yesterday:

MARYLAND — Democrats nominated Gov. J. Millard Tawes for a second four-year term. Republicans chose former Rep. Frank Small Jr.

Rep. Daniel Brewster won Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate seat being vacated by retiring Republican Sen. John Marshal Butler, and former Rep. Edward T. Miller won Republican nomination.

PENNSYLVANIA—Rep. William Scranton, endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, easily won Republican nomination for governor and former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth won Democratic nomination.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, unopposed for Democratic renomination, and Rep. James Van Zandt unopposed for Republican nomination to face Clark in November.

NEBRASKA — Fred Seaton, former secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower administration, won Republican gubernatorial nomination and Gov. Frank Morrison won Democratic renomination for a second two-year term.

Rep. Ralph Beerman leading Rep. Phil Weaver for Republican nomination in newly consolidated congressional district.

Francis Law Petitions Sent To Sacramento

A certified list of 3,065 Marin petitioners for placing the Francis Amendment on the November election ballot has been forwarded from the county clerk's office to Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

A total of 3,557 signatures was collected on petitions circulated in Marin County, but 492 of them were declared invalid. "This is about average for any petition," a deputy clerk said. Most invalidations were because of incomplete names or incorrect addresses.

The amendment is proposed as a means to further restrict the activities of Communist and their sympathizers.

OAS Lobs 15 Mortar Shells On Moslems

ALGIERS (UPI) — The outlawed Secret Army Organization today fired at least 15 mortar shells into the heavily populated Moslem Casbah quarter today and spread a new wave of terror across Algeria.

First reports from the Casbah said there were "several victims" but no exact casualty figures were immediately available there.

No Tax Increase For Tomales High School's Budget

Trustees of Tomales High School District Tuesday adopted a preliminary budget of $214,00, which does not call for a tax increase.

Supt. Anthony Matulich said the tax rate would remain at $1.25 per $100 for general purpose or a total of $1.30 including fixed items.

The San Rafael firm of Dalton, Graupner and Barber, accountants, will do an audit of the district's books, not to cost more than $350.

An interdistrict agreement was approved so Carol Buoy could attend San Rafael High School.

'Trouble Spot' Beer Sales Backed

The Sausalito city council last night decided not to oppose granting of an on-sale beer license to Gas Works No. 2 at Gate Five Road, although the area has been termed a "trouble spot."

William Paterson and Jerry D. Miller have applied to the alcoholic beverage control board for the license.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said Police Chief Howard Goerndt has protested the application because of the Gas Works' "proximity to the residential area outside the city which makes this a potential trouble spot" difficult to police.

Councilman Howard Sievers moved that the council protest granting of the license. The motion died for a lack of a second.

Mayor Paul Micou said: "I'm not in favor of protesting this on the grounds the police chief has put before us. We can't tell anybody they can't use their property simply because the police will find it difficult to patrol that area. If this is permitted by law, the city is obliged to give protection."

Sievers said, "just last week there was trouble in that area."

Sausalito Firm On Cloud View Park

The Sausalito City Council refused last night to rescind its approval of establishment of Cloud View Park, a city playground.

Mrs. Sally Clapp Stapp of 49 Cloud View Road protested the park and asked the council to reconsider its decision. She said the playground would be a public nuisance and a burden on fire and police departments as well as nearby residents. She said legal action might be taken since a dwelling on the site encroaches on her property.

Then, during intermission, William W. Remak, owner of the Glen Five and Ten Store, gave City Manager Charles A. Brown $6 in cash for rent on the playground for the first six months. "It's a civic enterprise," said Remak.

Brown said that to his knowledge, it was the first time since his time with the city that anyone had made an on-the-spot cash contribution to Sausalito.

Third Drunken Offense: Jail

Reford Lee Madison, 41, painter of 1657 Novato Boulevard, Novato, must spend a month in jail and pay $276 fine for his third drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for drunken driving and hit-run driving. Madison was involved in an accident on First Street in Novato on April 20, then left the scene without reporting the mishap immediately.

Madison had two prior convictions in Petaluma, both in October of 1956. He has work furlough privilege during his one-month jail term.

Gunman In Union Head Slaying Escapes Prison

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three jail prisoners, including hired gunman William Triplett, admitted partner in the ambush slaying of a union leader, overpowered three guards today and escaped.

The three men were armed with five .38-caliber revolvers and were considered highly dangerous.

Authorities believed the gunmen might be headed toward Detroit, where Triplett has friends. It was in Detroit that he was taken into custody in connection with the slaying last October 20 of John A. Kilpatrick, international president of the United Industrial Workers of America.

Triplett was to be a witness in the trial of his uncle, scheduled June 18.

The beekeeping industry in California represents a capital investment of about 15 million dollars.

Numbers Game Inspires Joke In Sausalito

Instructions on the numbers game of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. were presented to the City of Sausalito last night.

Charles F. Berlenbach, manager of the Southern Marin office of the firm, left a batch of pamphlets called "new numbers for tomorrow's telephones.

Mayor Paul Micou introduced Berlenbach to the audience and added that "a number of pamphlets will be available in the city hall for those interested."

(The pamphlets explain the new numbering system which also includes numbers for the former alphabetical prefixes.)

"Or Mr. Berlenbach can be reached at DUnlap 8-?" asked Councilman Michael Harris.

"It's 388-9000," popped back the mayor.

They'll Fly Through The Air At HAFB's Armed Forces Day

A sky diving exhibition by members of the Army's 101st Airborne Division will be featured at the Armed Forces Day activities Saturday at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Performances are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. an 2 p.m.

Sky diving or sport parachuting is the Army's newest sport and was first authorized for military personnel in 1958. It has grown from two clubs at that time to more than 20 military clubs at present.

The jumper leaves the aircraft in a spread position, with arms and legs extended, face to earth, and body flat. He will fall in the position for the length of his delay, whether it is five or 30 seconds.

In the free fall, the jumper reaches a speed of 120 miles per hour after 12 seconds. An experienced sky diver can make figure eights in the air during his fall by moving his body and arms. This calls for exact coordination and a wrong move could send him spinning out of control.

After he has opened his 'chute, the sky diver guides his canopy toward a ground target. The parachute is steerable because one section has been removed. This allows air to escape which gives the jumper a forward speed of from four to six miles per hour.

Sky divers scheduled to make the jump are: Sp4/c Lachlan Galbraith, First Lt. Michael F. Fields, Second Lt. Alan B. Jackson, Pfc. Volker W. Noback, Sgt. Frank Zumpfe and Sp. 4/c James B. Patterson.

The sky diving exhibitions are two of many events on the Armed Forces Day program at Hamilton. The activities will start at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

Welfare Fraud Nets Probation

A San Anselmo mother who received about $1,200 in illegal welfare aid got a 60-day suspended jail sentence and was ordered to make restitution yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas also put Mrs. Ramona June Crosby, 34, on two years' probation.

Investigator William Bemiss of the district attorney's office arrested Mrs. Crosby in March for getting welfare aid without telling officials she was getting $95 per month from her estranged husband's disability pension.

Mrs. Crosby is the mother of three. She gave her address as 256 Crescent Road when arrested.

Request To Reorganize Sausalito Plans Commission Turned Down

The Sausalito City Council last night turned down a request for reorganization of the city's planning commission.

John J. Gallas, recent unsuccessful candidate for city council, suggested the commission be more representative of various sectors of the city as well as of civic organizations such as the chamber of commerce and the Sausalito Foundation.

Mayor Paul Micou said: "We now have an engineer, lawyer, architect, local business man, advertising man, developer, newspaperman and professional planner. They reside in almost every one of the areas of the town and are well qualified to serve as commissioners." Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. agreed with Micou.

The council discussed but took no action on a letter from the City of Berkeley asking if Sausalito were making a study of discrimination in housing.

"The recent (state) court decision barring discrimination in all business establishments goes a great deal farther than anything we can do," said Councilman Michael Harris. He said the decision included real estate brokers in business establishments.

"I don't think our community is staffed to determine the question," Ehrlich said.

William W. Remak told the council: "Everybody in the Monte Mar district signed a restrictive clause not to resell to Orientals . . . it's very ambiguous. If we don't revoke it, it will be in effect forever."

"These exist in many deeds all over and are uniformly illegal," said Harris. "The process of removing a covenant from an existing deed is extremely laborious and expensive."

Hadden W. Roth, former deputy district attorney, was appointed deputy city attorney. City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who requested the appointment, said some office work and court appearances would be delegated to Roth.

Both Jordan and Roth are members of the firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan of San Rafael. Roth is a resident of Mill Valley.

The council announced it will hear a report from its finance committee on the annual salary survey of all employees at an adjourned meeting next Tuesday. City Manager Charles A. Brown said he felt the schedule should be resolved before the 1962-63 budget is presented.

The Sausalito council also:

1. Reappointed Dr. Thomas Mannell and M. Justin Herman to the library board. They had been appointed previously to fill unexpired terms of Mrs. James Wyatt and L. Sutton Wood.
2. Referred to the chamber of commerce a letter from R. E. Clover of 309 Tomales Road suggesting that Christmas decorations for the city have "life put into them" and be more attractive.
3. Set for June 4 a study session to discuss a planned unit development ordinance as well as to consider lot split problems.
4. Set for June 12 discussion of a request by Walter Benson to lease underwater city streets in Shelter Cove.
5. Set next Tuesday as date to discuss a policy on restrictions at Turney Street boat launching ramp.
6. Approved warrants of $52,750.

Six Marin Physicians Elected To Academy

Sir Marin physicians are among 300 elected to the American Academy of Pediatrics at a meeting in New York this month.

They are: From San Rafael, Dr. Evelyn R. Callas, 1930 Fourth Street; Dr. David F. Merten, 1540 Fifth Avenue; Dr. Theodore McCarthy, 707 C Street; Dr. J. Garland Stroup, 870 Idylberry Road.

From Mill Valley, Dr. Leon Paul Smith, 61 Camino Alto, and Dr. Marshall Klaus, 107 Oakdale.

Baha'i World Faith Celebration Slated

The 119th anniversary of the Bab will be observed by the Baha'is of San Rafael, 8 p.m., May 23, in the home of F. C. Haake, 1334 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Wallace Liggett will speak on "The Lord of the Age," who the Bab, a young man of Shiraz, Iran, said was Baha'U'Llah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith.

$3.4 Million Bolinas Harbor Backed As 'Life Saver'

He estimated annual revenue of the Bolinas Harbor District, from rental of dock space and waterside commercial uses plus taxes, would total $57,725. Annual maintenance and operating costs were estimated at $99,000.

The difference, said Blume, should be made up by the State of California through its small craft harbor funds.

After the hearing adjourned at noon, Colonel Morrison said federal funds might be used to make up part of the difference between income and expenses.

He said Blume's report, and the letters and statements presented at the hearing, would be incorporated by the Army Engineers in records of a feasibility study for which $25,000 in federal funds already has been appropriated.

The proposed harbor would provide space for 100 fishing boats and about 20 pleasure boats. Blume said interviews with commercial fishermen in the San Francisco Bay area had shown they are strongly in favor of the development.

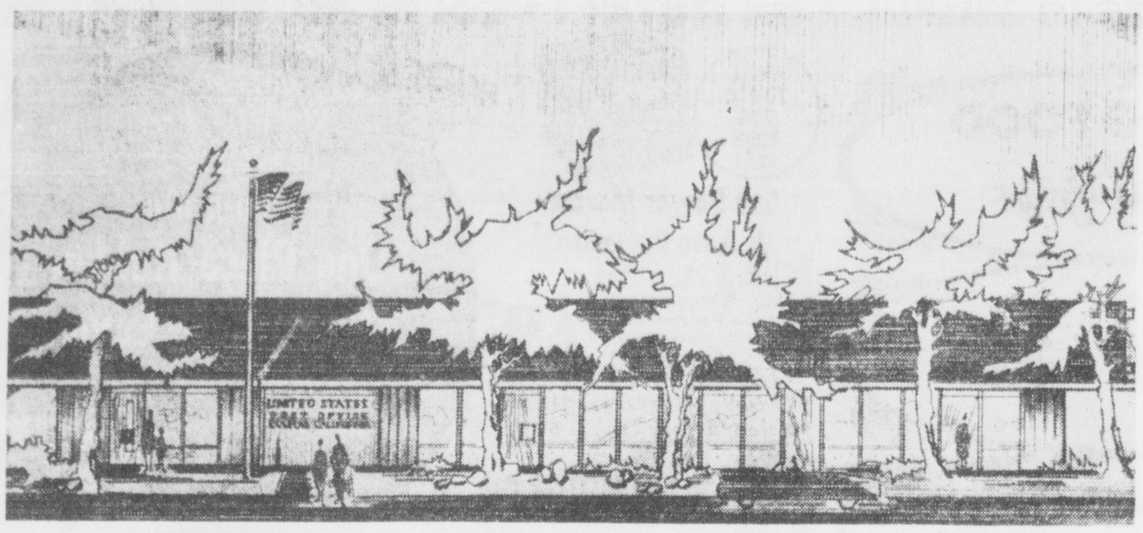
Two long stone jetties would protect the harbor. Extensive excavation would be required, but sand dredged for construction would be used for fill, said Blume.

David Van Pelt, principal county planner, said the harbor is included in the county's master plan for the Bolinas area.

Several West Marin residents spoke briefly in favor of the project.

County officials attending included Supervisor Peter Behr, whose district includes Bolinas, and members of the county planning staff.

Letters were read in favor of the proposal from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, the Sacramento-Yolo Port District, California State Chamber of Commerce, Marin County Board of Supervisors, and Marin County Harbor Com-



POSTOFFICE BUILDING FOR BOLINAS

This design by Jack Hermann, Kentfield architect, has been approved by the U.S. Post Office Departmentfor the new Bolinas Postoffice, to be located adjacent to the Waterhouse Building. L. G. Pepper and Sons won the contract to provide the facility, to be leased by the government. It will be of redwood construction. A 30-foot flagpole will be erected in front of the building to fly the new flag presented to the community last year by President John F. Kennedy.

Telephone Tip Means Arrests In Burglary

Two men, who have had a series of brushes with the law, were back in Marin County Jail this morning on suspicion of burglarizing a Novato home on Monday.

The suspects are Richard John Grundhauser, 26, of 9 Ross Street, San Rafael and Frederick Kitzmiller, 22, of 200 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo. They were in jail today in lieu of $2,500 bail each on suspicion of burglary and possession of a firearm.

PHONE TIP

An anonymous telephone tip led to their arrest by Novato police, Chief Roy McLaren reported. The chief and Sgt. Robert DiGrazia arrested the pair in San Rafael yesterday evening.

The Novato home of Robert Kuehnl and Harry Davis at 406 Ridge Road was looted on Monday. Much of the loot was found in Kitzmiller's car, Chief McLaren said that Grundhauser admitted that the loot came from the Novato home.

Others may be involved in the case, which is still being investigated, said McLaren.

STINSON CASE

Grundhauser was one of two men tried last week on a charge that they had burglarized the Stinson Beach Park ranger station office last Feb. 22. The jury failed to agree, and the case is still pending in superior court. In 1960, Grundhauser served six months in county jail for another burglary.

Kitzmiller also has a record dating back to 1958. He has been picked up for being drunk and having liquor in his possession. He also served a jail term for a drug violation.

Sleepy Hollow, Hub Meeting Off

A joint meeting of the San Anselmo City Council and the Sleepy Hollow Fire District Commission failed to materialize last night because the Sleepy Hollow representatives failed to show up in time.

City fathers waited for almost an hour, then proceeded to approve a proposed fire department budget of $179,000 for the coming fiscal year, with 18½ per cent to be borne by the Sleepy Hollow Fire District. This amounts to about $31,000.

Robert Keller, chairman of the Sleepy Hollow Fire District Commission, appeared shortly before 9 p.m., but the council had adjourned by then.

Transit Directors Rushing Marin Out

Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District will speed the parting for Marin County at a special meeting at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the district's assembly room at 985 Flood Building, San Francisco.

Brokerage Exec Admits Goof In Selling Of Stocks To 86

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's biggest brokerage house conceded today that it initiated sales to 86 customers of about 60,000 shares of a stock it would not knowingly recommend even to speculators.

"Let's face it. This is one in which we goofed," Donald T. Regan, a vice president of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, told a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing.

"This did slip through our first and second line of defenses," he said, "It won't happen again."

Regan testified that his firm paid back losses on the stock, identified as Aquafilter Corp., to all persons who bought shares on the advice of Merrill Lynch salesmen.

He was not asked how much the refunds cost the firm. After the hearing, he declined to disclose the sum to a reporter.

The SEC is looking into qualifications and training of securities salesmen as part of a major investigation of the securities industry.

MORE THAN THE TRAFFIC COULD BEAR

A threatened brawl over a traffic incident yesterday at Fourth and B streets in San Rafael, landed an 18-year-old Mill Valley youth in the county jail on suspicion of assault and disturbing the peace.

Michael Louis Vincillione of 50 Country Club Drive was booked after an argument in which he allegedly threatened Robert Leton Kahn of Campbell.

Police said the argument started when Kahn accused Vincillione of almost running him down in the crosswalk. Vincillione jumped from his car and chased Kahn. The two were about to "square off" before a crowd of more than 100 when police intervened.

SHUTDOWN

manager, Mervin Bain, Ronald Antonioli and Richard Zoellner were named to the negotiating committee.

The laborers, whose picketing idled some 12,000 men, are scheduled to meet with the employers tomorrow to continue negotiations toward a renewed contract.

The laborers are asking raises totaling $1.15 over three years. The employers have offered a 30-cent wage boost during the same period. The dispute involves work on public buildings, schools, hospitals, highways, homes and dams, including the massive Feather River project.

If complete, the shutdown could idle as many as 130,000 men.

Merz Excavating Permit Runs Out

Grading and excavating work ground to a halt at 5 p.m. Friday on a proposed subdivision above Myrtle Avenue in San Rafael.

Building trades officials, alarmed that the job might be one of those joining the threatened employer shutdown, inquired the reason.

The contractor, Frank Merz, harrassed, opposed and blockaded by angry neighborhood housewives, assured union officials he was not joining the lockout.

His excavating permit, extended in March by the San Rafael City Council over protests by neighbors, had finally expired.

Richardson Bay, $25,000.

2. To permit the Army Engineers to study economic and engineering feasibility of dredging a proposed small-craft navigation channel (the Saucelito Canal) between Mill Valley and Sausalito, $3,000.

3. To complete a feasibility survey of a proposed small-craft harbor at Bolinas $15,000.

4. To permit the Army Engineers to virtually complete their comprehensive flood control and navigation study of San Francisco Bay and tributaries, $200,000. (This survey includes the hydraulic model of San Francisco Bay, at Sausalito.)

5. To permit the Army Engineers to begin designing a proposed dam and reservoir on Dry Creek in Sonoma County, $250,000. This project would provide future supplemental water supply for northern Marin County as well as Sonoma County.

6. To begin a Bureau of Reclamation survey of possible routes for diverting surplus Eel River water south to the North Bay Counties via the Russian River, $41,300.

Success of the request for funds to begin designing the Corte Madera Creek project hinges upon authorization of the project prior to enactment of this year's Public Works Appropriations Bill.

Novato Taxpayer Suit Reaffirmed

Samuel A. Hagler Jr., chairman of the Clear Thinking Committee, last night reaffirmed his threat of a taxpayer's suit against the Novato Unified School District board.

Hagler told the board that the threatened suit is still in the offing. He made the threat when the board hired James G. Bunker on April 28 to become superintendent on July 1, succeeding William J. J. Smith.

The suit will depend on the outcome of the suit brought by Smith to regain his job, Hagler said.

Larkspur Meets On Budget Today

The Larkspur City council will discuss the preliminary budget for 1962-3 at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The council will also consider a new contract with the Ross Valley Sanitary District for sewage disposal.

A resolution calling for a 10 per cent increase in employees' salaries will be considered.

returned to its owner, Marian M. Rattray of 90 Glenwood Avenue, Ross.

Minutes later, Corte Madera police were called by William Donald Johnson of 84 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, who reported his 1957 Chevrolet two-door sedan was stolen while it was parked near the water district building.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson surmised the car theft—who had a weakness for 1957 Chevrolets—traded the "hot" car for another.

As far as Jeanne Lucille Schraps is concerned, thieves might as well have taken her car.

Miss Schraps, of 20 Pinecrest Road, Mill Valley, parked her 1955 Chevrolet in the public lot at Second Street at Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael. When she returned at 2 p.m. she discovered the car's transmission had been skillfully removed.

OBITUARIES

George H. Seaver Dies, Rites Held

Private funeral services were held today for George Henry Seaver, 83, longtime Homestead resident, who died this morning at his home after a long illness.

Seaver had worked 35 years for the United States Mint in San Francisco and retired in 1945 as chief bookkeeper. He was born in Benicia.

He served as gunners mate and yeoman aboard the troopship General Grant, which carried troops to the Philippines in 1898 during the Spanish-American War. Seaver signed off the ship and spent two years as a photographer in Manila.

Returning to San Francisco, he opened a shoe store which he ran six years and was reported to have done a good business after the 1906 fire since his store was not hit.

Seaver resided in Homestead 41 years. He was one of the organizers of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District, served on the board 16 years, and was chairman when the decision was made to install sewers.

His wife died when his two sons were still children. The two, William G. Seaver of San Rafael and Martin H. Seaver of Mill Valley, survive him, as does one granddaughter.

Seaver was a member of the National Assn. of Retired Civil Service Employees. His hobby was gardening.

Since last July he was cared for at his home at 20 Evergreen Avenue by Mr. and Mrs. Budd S. Cummings, who resided with him.

Inurnment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. The family requests tributes be contributions to favorite charities.

APARTMENTS FOR NEW AREA — Architect's drawing shows how San Rafael Village apartment development of 90 units, on 2.5 acres at Bayview and D Streets in San Rafael, will look when completed. Seabreeze Construction Co. of San Diego plans the project, in an area close to downtown but previously undeveloped for multiple housing.

Firm Ready To Begin Working On 154 Prime-Site Apartments In San Rafael

A San Diego firm which is rapidly expanding in the apartment house field throughout the west will start construction as soon as labor is available on 154 new apartments in San Rafael.

Plans for the developments were outlined at a gathering of city officials and civic and financial leaders late yesterday at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant by officials of Seabreeze Construction Co.

First building to be started will be the three-story, 64-unit Lincoln Villa at Lincoln Avenue and Wilson Court, estimated to cost $900,000.

Following shortly will be the 90-unit San Rafael Village, in a group of buildings on 2.5 acres at Bayview and D streets, within easy walking distance of downtown.

Alfred M. Berger, principal with Marvin S. Bailin in the Seabreeze company, said the firm is departing from the present practice of locating apartments on cheap land in the outskirts of cities.

"Wherever we undertake a project, we try to get prime land close in, that will help to revitalize downtown areas and at the same time eliminate traffic and parking problems," he said.

Lincoln Villa will be built by Seabreeze as a joint venture with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simon of Springfield, Mo., Berger and Bailin announced. The site, about 65,000 square feet, has been obtained on a 60-year lease from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson of San Rafael. Financing was arranged by First of California Mortgage Co. of San Rafael. Features will include a heated pool and tropically landscaped recreation patio.

The larger San Rafael Village will be on property fronting 215 Bayview Street, purchased from Paul O'Pizzi. The 2.5 acres was the original site of the Little Burner Co. in San Rafael, O'Pizzi said, and two warehouses built by that firm are still on the land.

Also on the property is a large Victorian dwelling that will be torn down to make way for the apartments.

The San Rafael Planning Commission has already approved plans for Lincoln Villa. San Rafael Village is still under study to work out problems of ingress and egress, since the land is within the interior of a block with only small frontage on Bayview Street.

Berger and Bailin said the two projects are but the first of many the company plans in Marin and surrounding areas. A regional property management office will be established here later, they reported.

Seabreeze, incorporated only two years ago, already has completed or under construction about 10 million dollars worth of apartment projects in San Diego, plus others in Palm Springs and Tucson, Ariz.

Bolinas Channel Hearing

The Army Corps of Engineers will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Bolinas Community Center to complete a survey study of the entrance channel to Bolinas Lagoon.

It will be headed by Col. John A. Morrison, San Francisco district engineer.

According to Gene W. McDaniel, president of the Bolinas Harbor District, a plan for the proposed small craft harbor of refuge, made by John A. Blume Associates of San Francisco, will be presented. McDaniel said he urged all interested parties to attend.

350 Retirement Apartments Set

Three hundred and fifty "retirement apartments" are planned at Loma Verde in Novato by Trousdale Construction Co.

The proposal to use 20.4 acres between San Jose Boulevard and the Marin Golf and Country Club for apartments for elderly citizens was laid before the Novato Planning Commission Monday night. The land is shown on the North Marin Master Plan as commercial and recreational areas.

A Trousdale spokesman said plans call for construction of 125 apartments to rent for $85 per month, 175 to rent for $100, and $50 to rent for $120.

The planning commission set a public hearing on the proposal for May 28.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved the tentative map of 24-lot Westwood subdivision on 6.5 acres on Center Road west of Tamalpais Avenue.

2. Approved grading plans for Lynwood Heights unit 2 of six acres on South Novato Boulevard.

3. Granted Jack Caristi architectural supervision for a doughnut shop on Second Street at Industrial Way.

4. Denied permission for Caristi to build apartments adjacent to Novato Hospital, on land zoned limited agricultural. Both planning commission and city council rejected a similar application last November, and ordinance forbids re-application for two years.

Novato Trustee Compares Teacher Pay In Bay Area

Novato Unified School district is the second highest district in the Bay Area in the percentage of its income which it pays its teachers, trustee Marett B. Boissevain Jr. last night told the Novato school board.

Boissevain's statement came during discussion of the proposed 60-cent tax increase for five years, to be put before the voters at a special election on July 24. He said the board must decide what it wants to do with the money and organize a citizen committee to help with the election.

Supt. William J. J. Smith advised the board to set up a progressive salary schedule, or teacher salary requests "will break your back."

Trustee William Kirk said the board would "not be stampeded into using the whole 60 cents the first year."

Don Swan, appraiser for the school district, agreed to head a citizen committee and was named as temporary chairman. A special meeting was called for 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the multi-purpose room of Marion School to organize the committee.

The board denied a claim for $25,425 from Cameo Lynn Phillips through her mother, Mrs. Okie Phillips of 777 Franklyn Avenue, for injuries suffered in an accident at Novato High School. Cameo, a sophomore who goes by the name of Cameo Blann, fell from a trampoline, injuring her back and neck on Feb. 16, the claim set forth.

In other action, the board:

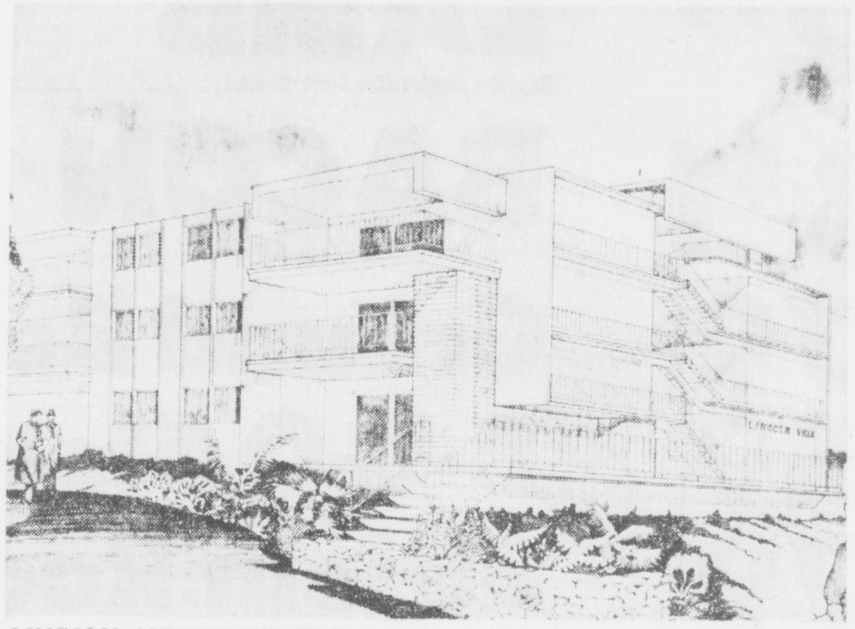
1. Authorized the architectural firm of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics to get a legal description and survey of the proposed Sanchez site on Sutro Avenue.

2. Set for June 14 opening of bids for the addition of a multi-purpose room at Rancho School.

3. Authorized architect James Coke torepresent the school at a meeting of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission Thursday night to discuss a swimming pool at the high school site.

4. Authorized purchase of $1,500 of athletic equipment for use next fall.

5. Met in executive session until 1 a.m. today to discuss salaries and contracts of the two assistant superintendents, Ralph Giovanniello and Eugene De Brecht. No decision was reached and the board agreed to further negotiations.



LINCOLN AVENUE PROJECT — A second project of Seabreeze Construction Co. announced yesterday will be Lincoln Villa, three-story, 64-unit apartment building at Lincoln Avenue and Wilson Way in San Rafael.

Last Right Of Way Accepted For Russian River Pipeline

The last section of right of way for a pipeline to the Russian River was accepted last night by the North Marin County Water District board.

Mary Silveira and family were the last ones to give the right of way, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Everyone along the aqueduct settled on the district's terms, Gilbert said. The right of way cost the district $20,000, he reported.

In other action, the board:

1. Changed the district's health insurance program from Connecticut General Insurance Co. to Crown Life Insurance Co.

2. Approved an agreement with the Bank of America for a pension trust fund which will cover all employees.

3. Authorized condemnation of property owned by Beverly Maple Corp. for a five million-gallon storage tank site near San Jose Boulevard in south Novato.

4. Set for next Tuesday a meeting with the employees salary committee.

V.A. Chaplains' Parley Under Way

A Veterans Administration chaplains' conference is being held today through Friday at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry Point.

It will feature special refresher courses as well as periods of devotion, according to Dr. J. Lyn Elder of the seminary faculty. It is designed for chaplains who have been appointed under civil service to work for the Veterans Administration.

'Academic Horizons' Talk Set At College

John D. Hicks, teacher, historian, and professor emeritus at University of California, will speak to College of Marin students at noon, May 24, in Olney Hall.

His lecture, entitled "Academic Horizons," is sponsored by Alpha Gamma Sigma honorary society and Associated Students of College of Marin.

$350,166 Budget Seen For Fairfax Schools

A preliminary budget of $350,166.42 was presented last night to Fairfax School District trustees.

Largest increase in the budget was for salaries and teaching supplies at a jump of $20,000 from last year's $232,514 compared with the new $252,677.

Supt. Homer Sisk said increased teacher salaries, hiring an additional teacher and boost in salary for an assistant principal who will become a principal accounted for the increase.

The board offered Sisk a new three-year contract with a salary raise from $11,600 to $12,000.

Two West Marin Items Approved, One Rejected

The wraith of the still-uncreated Point Reyes National Seashore loomed over three moves by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

1. Application was approved for a West Marin Master Plan to cost about $44,860, divided two-thirds federal government, one-third Marin County.

2. Twenty-four apartments were authorized on the Limantour sandspit despite a cry of "irresponsibility" by Supervisor Peter Behr, consistent opponent of subdivision development in the area of the proposed park.

3. Inverness Lodge was turned down in an effort to add eight rooms in detached units, but referred back to the planning commission on a basis of adding possibly four rooms.

Behr moved the application for help on the master plan. The only "no" vote came from Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

Orderly West Marin development has been stressed as an urgent need in view of plans for the seashore. The supervisors hope the master plan can be completed within six months as a joint effort by Mrs. Mary Summers, until recently county planning director; her husband, Harold, who recently retired from service as a state highway planner, and Daniel P. Coleman, San Rafael civil engineer.

Fusselman's opposition was based on the recent official employment of Mr. and Mrs. Summers. He said legal problems might arise from this.

Although the county planning department had said it could not produce the plan unaided for a matter of years, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said yesterday that his department will do about $5,000 worth of work on the joint job. The State Department of Finance is being asked to provide funds from the federal Urban Renewal Administration.

Attorney Benjamin Bonelli for Drakes Beach Estates came under Behr's fire on his Point Reyes apartment application.

"It is not an orderly method," said Behr, "to apply for a subdivision through little hunks, chips and pieces. I'm against it as an irresponsible act."

"I feel it is irresponsible to make such statements without full information," retorted Bonelli. He insisted that "an ideal place for multiple dwellings" had been chosen after hundreds of hours of investigation including aerial survey. He said the planning commission staff approved and so did the commission itself by 7-0 vote.

"That's a good master plan and I have a lot of regard for the planning commission, men of integrity who know their business," said Supervisor George Ludy, himself an Inverness resident, who moved approval of the permit.

Passage was by 3-2 vote with Chairman Walter R. Castro joining Behr in opposition.

With the seashore apparently imminent, the Inverness area now has only 13 rooms available to transients, attorney Julius H. Selinger said in support of the Inverness Lodge's effort to add to its present nine-room accommodation.

Selinger insisted that the use was legitimate, placing no burden on anyone.

He was supported by Capt. Adolph S. Oko, Point Reyes Station realty broker, who said the Milan Prokupeks "have enhanced the value of properties by their energy and hard work."

Attorney Caspar Weinberger, as representative of neighbors, said the inn is non-conforming in an otherwise residential area and cited an opposition petition with 61 signatures. Granting present good operation, he said the inn could be sold overnight to someone who could make "an unfortunate use."

Reed Residents Hear Ideas On Unification

Reed district residents had a chance to ask questions last night at the third in a series of meetings on proposed unification of the Tiburon Peninsula into a single school district.

Those attending the meeting, which was also the final membership meeting of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club, were assured by the speakers that unification was economically sound and educationally advantageous.

Mrs. Frank Hogue asked if it might be better for Tiburon Peninsula students (who, she said, tend to be introverted) to attend schools with students from other parts of the county.

Richard J. MacLaury, Reed district trustee, replied "There will be a high school here some day no matter who builds it."

To a question as to whether the Tamalpais High School District would suffer financially if the Tiburon Peninsula, with its high assessed valuation, were withdrawn, MacLaury replied he didn't believe so. He said increased state aid to the Tamalpais district would compensate for the loss.

William Carroll asked if there were any disadvantages. Edward C. Pino, Reed superintendent, replied that one of the disadvantages would be that a large high school could offer more services than the smaller one proposed.

Other speakers were Edwin L. Blackmore, county coordinator of rural education, and assistant secretary, Marin County committee on school district organization, and C. Earl Miller Jr., assistant professor of education, San Francisco State College.

The next meeting will be held May 23 at 2:45 p.m. at the Tiburon school.

David D. Ring, chairman of the trustees, presided.

The Reed District Parent-Teacher Club elected the following officers: Mrs. Peter MacGowan, president; Mrs. Berton Jacobson, vice president; Mrs. Milton Levitan, secretary; Mrs. Richard Kenney, treasurer, and Mrs. Walther Bucken, bulletin editor.

TAXPAYER MEMORIAL — An urn containing the ashes of the remains of 15 million dollars' worth of Marin district bonds is solemnly presented to Marin County supervisors by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, in undertakers' attire. He said he had cremated the papers in accordance with board authorization and suggested "a permanent shrine in memory of the unknown and forgotten taxpayer." (Independent-Journal photo)

BURNING OF THE BONDS

Funny Funeral Scene For Marin

A funeral scene paradoxically gave Marin County supervisors a moment of merriment yesterday.

Principal figure was Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, attired in top hat, string tie and frock coat—all borrowed, as he freely confessed—and bearing an urn of ashes.

Atop the urn, which he presented to Chairman Walter R. Castro, was an engraved plate reading:

"Taxpayers Relief: Marin County District Bond Issues, $15,000,000. Born 1920, died 1962."

Mitchell explained that he would "like to present this urn which contains the ashes of a vast number of bond coupons, cremated in accordance with your instruction of two weeks ago.

"We would like to give this for a permanent shrine in memory of the unknown and forgotten taxpayer."

After passing the urn up to the nonplussed Castro, Mitchell reached for a brown paper bag from which he took a considerably humbler-looking container formerly used for peanut butter.

"Since it was Mr. (Supervisor Peter) Behr's suggestion that ashes be scattered over the hills of South Marin," Mitchell explained, "we have carefully segregated these ashes applying to bonds of supervisorial District No. 3. The container was selected as you see in order to save the county's unappropriated reserve."

Mitchell also produced a card bearing a verse leading off with:

"The bonds have been cremated, as one can clearly see, and these ashes are only from Supervisorial District No. 3. (We hope.)"

WALDORF-ASTORIA DISHES STACK UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hundreds of women who had paid up to $50 a plate for charity organization affairs toted their own food in cafeteria-style "chow lines" at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Some of the 1,600 registered guests carried their own luggage to and from their rooms.

In the Empire Room, women draped their mink stoles over the backs of chairs and filed into the kitchen to scare up what fare they could.

Dirty dishes piled higher and higher in the kitchens servicing the hotel's 10 restaurants.

And so it went for thousands of guests and diners as 170 waiters and more than 200 other employes of the hotel staged a wildcat strike yesterday.

Service was somewhat less than de luxe for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and 1,200 other persons last night at a banquet of the French Institute of New York City in the grand ballroom.

The labor dispute, which began over the system of tipping at banquets and other group functions, was placed in the hands of the impartial arbitrator who said no decision could be expected for several days.

Marin Fishing Vessel Leaving

Bart Stinson of 1612 Vallejo Street, Novato, said today the purse seine vessel of which he is captain will leave Seattle for Alaska in mid-June with what he believes is the only vessel fishing in Alaskan waters with an entire crew from California.

He and his crew will leave Marin for Seattle some time this week. After their Alaskan fishing they will return to Marin in mid-September. Stinson will take with him on his first skipper's job Robert and Dale Palmer, Odd and Tim Redlin and Carl Burton Jr., all of Marin.

Stinson is the brother of Lt. Sidney Stinson of the Marine sheriff's office.

CYA To Take Over Captured Youth

A 19-year-old San Rafael youth, who jumped bail and later pulled a gun on a deputy sheriff to elude capture, will be sent to the California Youth Authority for an indefinite stay.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday revoked probation for Ronald Harold Husby, 19, of 5 Roger Court, San Rafael, and ordered him committed to the California Youth Authority.

Last September, Husby was convicted of petty theft from a San Rafael home. He violated probation by taking money from a cash register at a San Anselmo service station.

To make bail, he turned his car over to the bail bondsman, then stole the car and disappeared. On May 6, Sheriff's Deputy Ernest Nielsen nearly caught Husby in the Alto hills, but the yoth pulled a pistol and ran. The officer fired three shots but failed to stop the fleeing youth.

Last Thursday night, Husby surrendered meekly at his San Rafael home when surrounded by San Rafael police and sheriff's deputies.

St. Hilary's School And Convent Wins Conditional Building Permit

St. Hilary's School and Convent, still in the pre-construction stage on Hawthorne Terrace, Tiburon Peninsula, yesterday won a conditional building permit from Marin County supervisors after exhaustive study of law books on the subject of sanitary facilities.

A crowd in the supervisors' chamber was patient while County Counsel E. Warren McGuire was summoned, then went after reference material to refresh his recollection from time to time in an ante-room.

Architect Harold W. Teague said it was urgently necessary that the project get a green light to provide four classrooms by September or it would be impossible to get teachers. But the building inspector's permit had been refused because Hawthorne Terrace is under the guns of the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board for its inadequate sewage treatment.

An effort is under way to annex Hawthorne Terrace to the Richardson Bay Sanitary District. However, it appears this may not be completed in time to meet St. Hilary's time schedule, Teague said.

Discussion developed that several means of sewer connection were open to the school, including connection to the Tiburon Sanitary District lines, though this would entail running a 1,200-foot connection.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman finally cut through to suggest that a building permit be authorized with proviso that the school could not be opened until suitable sanitation had been arranged. On Supervisor Peter Behr's motion, this was unanimously approved.

The Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Asked managers of the Marin Municipal and the North Marin Water Districts to check a proposal for testing a proposed salt-water conversion system.
2. Made two appointments, of James R. Mace as fire warden at $440 monthly and Frank Robello as public works department janitor at $335.
3. Greeted 15 visitors from the Tomales Bay Elementary School with their teacher, Floyd Billigmeier.
4. Confirmed Harrison Norman Bailey, John A. Thomson and C. J. Williams, who had been nominated as trustees of the Marin City Community Services District.
5. Named Supervisor William Gnoss to the executive committee of the Eel River Flood Control District.
6. Told Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham to get cost estimate on restoration of roadside water supply in Samuel P. Taylor State Park.
7. Adopted an ordinance declaring B Street, in Point Reyes Station, a through street.
8. Approved plans and specifications for a storage building at the Greenbrae corporation yard.
9. Again authorized contract with United Ambulance Co. for service for county mentally ill and indigents in non-emergency service, on basis of lower group bid of two bidders; also accepting Montgomery Ward and Co. group bid, lower of two, on new and recapped tires and roadside service for the next fiscal year.

Mill Valley School Budget $1,350,260

This is $233,860 more than this year's budget of $1,116,400 and, according to Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson, represents an increase in over-all salaries plus eight additional teachers and a gardener. He said the increase was made possible through the passage of a 75-cent tax limit increase by voters April 10.

The operating tax is estimated at $2.20 per $100 assessed valuation with a 68-cent override tax. The next discussion of the budget will be June 11.

Arts Quartet Concert-Goers Will Hear An Unusual Guest

An unusual feature of Sunday's final concert of the season for the Marin Arts Quartet will be that the guest soloist is a musician by avocation. He is tenor Richard R. Hughes of Kentfield, holder of a doctor of science degree in chemical engineering.

The concert will take place at 3 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley.

Hughes received his doctor of science degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is employed as the head of the applied mathematics department of the Shell Development Company in Emeryville.

RICHARD B. HUGHES
Soloist with quartet

He has been soloist at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, San Rafael, for the past ten years and has sung with the Mill Valley Light Opera in San Francisco.

While he was an undergraduate he attended the New England Conservatory of Music and is presently studying under Otto Schulman in San Francisco.

Hughes lives in Kentfield with his wife and three daughters, Bronwyn, 17; Ann, 15; and Nancy, 11.

In Sunday's concert he will sing "On Wenlock Ridge" by Vaughn-Williams, accompanied at the piano by Robaline Meacham.

Other numbers, to be played by the quartet, will be Quartet No. 33 in B flat, Opus 64, No. 3 by Haydn and Quartet No. 1 in C minor, Opus 51, No. 1 by Brahms.

Quartet members are Charles Meacham, violin; Everett O'Bannon, violin; Elizabeth Bell, viola; and Jean Mattos Maguire, cello.

Tea will be served after the program. Tickets will be available at the door.

New Citizen Happy Living In U.S., Marin

A new citizen who was not only glad to be an American but equally as glad to be living in Marin County is Mrs. Mabel A. Bramston of 24 Orchard Way, Novato.

The only flaw in her receiving her citizenship was that her husband did not get his at the same time. He was sick and so did not get citizenship with his wife. However, he hopes to have his soon.

Mrs. Bramston was born Mabel Jones in England. She went to Canada with her parents when she was 4 years old. She grew up in Toronto, Ontario, where she met her husband in 1936. They were married in 1940.

She and her husband lived in Calgary, Alberta, and in Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., before coming to San Francisco in 1951. They moved to Novato three years ago.

Mrs. Bramston works for the Marin County Hospital, and her husband is employed by the Cadillac Division of General Motors in San Francisco.

Soprano Will Solo At Concert

San Francisco State College student Claudia Colburn will return to San Rafael, her home, tomorrow to solo in a concert given by the college's symphonic band.

Miss Colburn, a soprano, will sing "Summertime" from George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess.

The concert, beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium, will be conducted by Edwin C. Kruth.

The 70-member band will play a selection of show tunes besides a scene from the opera "Boris Godounov" by Moussorgsky.

Governor Sent Anonymous Postcards In Bircher Death

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Postal officials said yesterday an investigation would be conducted into some 200 anonymous "Dear Comrade" postcards sent to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and three other prominent Californians.

The cards, postmarked in 20 states, read:

"Dear Comrade: Did your Communist friends murder Newton Armstrong Jr.?" Instead of a signature, there was a triangle at the bottom of each card.

Newton Armstrong Jr., 19, a San Diego State College student leader, was found hanged shortly after midnight March 31. Dist. Atty. Don Keller said a five-week investigation ruled out the possibility of murder. The intensive probe concluded the death was a suicide, Keller said.

The youth's father, Newton Armstrong Sr., a retired Army officer and member of the John Birch Society, charged his son was murdered by Communist terrorists. He retained attorney John T. Schall. Schall said Monday he planned to meet with newsmen today to bring "certain facts" to public attention regarding the case.

U.S. Postal Inspector A. M. Wise of San Francisco said an investigation into the postcards would be conducted by the U.S. Postal Inspector's Office in Washington. Wise said the cards appeared to constitute "objectionable material and a postal violation."

In addition to Brown, the anonymous postcards also were received by Dr. Melvin Crain, San Diego State College political science professor; Simon Casady, publisher of the El Cajon Valley News and vice president of the San Diego County Democratic Central Committee, and Rev. Robert Moon, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fresno.

Governor Brown said he received 50 of the cards since April 18. Crain received 83, and Casady, 75.

Crain said he did not know Armstrong. Casady had written editorials criticizing the time taken by the district attorney to complete the investigation. Moon said he had been critical of the "Operation Abolition" anti-Communist film during an interview in March, 1961.

Wise said the postcards apparently were printed on the same machines although mailed from a variety of communities.

In Scholastic Society

Beverly Carlson of San Rafael, student at University of Georgia, has been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society.

State's Curriculum Committee Considering School Text Books

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (AP) — The State Curriculum Commission, with 11 books under consideration, will make its final selection of basic sixth and seventh grade social studies texts next November.

The commission yesterday rejected 11 other books. Of the 11 retained, six are for the sixth grade and five for the seventh. In addition, 29 supplementary books were held for further study.

The commission is expected to recommend adoption of texts to the State Board of Education next January.

The commission considers only quality of books and does not look at sealed bids already submitted by publishers.

The Board of Education, which opens the sealed bids, will consider both quality and costs.

Commission members also adopted criteria for the rating of arithmetic textbooks under consideration for adoption.

Dr. George McMeen, administrative consultant in mathematics for the Education Department, said the criteria incorporate all the essential ideas on mathematics recommended by the commission's advisory committee on mathematics.

Basic texts recommended for the sixth grade social studies, with one to be adopted from each field, were:

Geography — "Our World and its Peoples, Allyn and Bacon, Boston; "The World Around Us," Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., New York; "A World View," Silver Burdett Co., Morristown, N.J.

Combined history and geography—"Life in Latin America," Ginn and Co., Boston; "Living Together as American Neighbors" the Macmillan Co., New York; and "Learning About Latin America," Silver Burdett.

Recommended seventh grade books were:

History—"Exploring the Old World," Follett Publishing Co., Chicago; and "The Changing Old World," Silver Burdett.

Geography — "The Eastern Hemisphere," Allyn and Bacon; "Eurasia," Ginn and Co.; and "Old World Lands," Silver Burdett.

The recommended books will be displayed in public libraries throughout the state before adoption.

The board also re-elected Dr. Irwin O. Addicott of Fresno as presiding officer and seated the newest commission member, Mrs. Jeannine Sevey of Oceanside.

FAT VERSUS DIET

'Anti-Coronary Club' Cuts Heart Attacks

NEW YORK (AP) — The men of New York's "anti-coronary club" pit prudent diet against the risk of heart attacks. And, doctors reported today, these men are having far fewer heart attacks than is expected for men their age.

In fact, the club had a total of five attacks per year, when the expected rate was nearly 24 attacks per year.

The statistics, reported to the New York State Medical Society's annual meeting, were even more remarkable for men with a greater heart attack risk due to high blood pressure or high cholesterol rating.

The club members with more than one of the high risk debilities could have expected to count more than 16 attacks a year among them. Instead they could count only one a year.

It suggests that diet may be effective in reducing the risk of heart attacks, and this possibility should be pursued, the study said.

The main object of the diet, which doctors dubbed "the prudent diet," is to reduce the amount of saturated fatty acids in favor of unsaturated fatty acids in the diet. Generally the saturated fats are those in butter, whole-milk cheeses, ordinary and hydrogenated margarines and shortenings—fats that are generally solid at room temperature, as opposed to most vegetable oils.

The prudent diet eliminated or reduced foods with saturated fats, reduced, for instance, beef, pork, lamb and egg rations in favor of fish, poultry, veal, nuts and grains and corn oil.

As a measure of a patient's response to diet, doctors tallied cholesterol ratings in the blood. Cholesterol is the fat in the blood suspected of contributing to deposits that narrow or harden blood vessels, raise the risk of heart attacks and strokes.

Under the diet, cholesterol ratings dropped.

Named Student Woman Of Year

Deanna Denman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Denman of 18 Pine Street, San Rafael, has been selected as the outstanding woman of the year by the Associated Women's Students of University of Portland, Portland, Ore.

Miss Denman, a 1958 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, is a speech arts major and has been active in several university productions, speech tournaments and religious activities.

Announcement of her award was made at the annual women's students banquet. At the same time it was announced she had been named one of the 10 junior women selected for Philometheans, senior women's honorary.

Sausalito Kindergarten

Parents with children of kindergarten age in the Sausalito School District may register them for fall semester between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on week days at Central and Manzanita schools, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today. Proof of birth must be presented as well as polio immunization records.

Open Burning Ends For Mill Valley

Open burning has ended for the season in Mill Valley, Fire Chief Leslie Armanger reported today.

Persons wishing to burn in incinerators from 7 to 11 a.m. or to use their barbecues must get permits from the fire department.

Mission accomplished.

Ten hours after their first take-off, these two planes had broadcast 90,000 pounds of rice seed over 600 acres! It was an average day's work for the pilots based at the Sutter County Airport, just two miles from the Wells Fargo Bank in Marysville. And from spring to harvest, from dawn to dusk, "dusters" crisscross the great paddies of Sutter, Butte, Glenn, Colusa and Yolo counties. They fertilize, plant, spray – helping to economically produce the highest rice yield per acre in the nation!

In Northern California, rice is typical of a broadly diversified, highly specialized agriculture that now produces 6% of the national farm income on 2% of the farm land – with a future secured by burgeoning population and broadening markets.

And this basic industry supports others, from agricultural chemicals to food processing, from farm machinery to shipping by land and sea. Rice alone is a $31 million annual export to India, Indonesia, other countries of the Pacific basin.

This is the sturdy economic pattern in Northern California – Wells Fargo country from Eureka to King City, from San Francisco to the Sierra. It has always been our own special land – its people and its promise our first concern.

Onion Beef Patties

1 lb. ground lean beef
¾ cup PET Evaporated Milk
½ cup uncooked rolled oats
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 Tablespoons hot shortening
¼ cup dried onion soup mix (see note)
½ cup water

In a 1½-qt. bowl, mix beef, milk, oats, salt and pepper. With wet hands, shape mixture into 4 patties. In a 10-in. skillet, brown patties over medium heat in hot shortening. Drain off any drippings in skillet. Pour over patties in skillet mixture of onion soup mix and water. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 15 min. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings. NOTE: Mix dried onion soup mix well before measuring the ¼ cup (½ pkg.).

Bel Aire Nursery School Plan Approved After Bitter Debate

Permission to establish Bel Aire Nursery School in a single-family dwelling at 255 Karen Way on the Tiburon Peninsula was granted by Marin County supervisors yesterday after bitter debate and two votes.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs commented that there were unusual evidences of split feeling in the community, which already has a non-profit nursery school in a commercial area.

"The location is not important as compared with the issue of whether a house similar to others should be used as a nursery school," said Dobbs, mentioning a petition with 95 names opposing Mrs. Joy Zailin's project.

After numerous heated utterances similar to those at a recent hearing where the planning commission decided to approve, Supervisor Peter Behr moved to overrule and reject the commission approval, though he said he did so "with real reluctance."

Supervisor William Gnoss said he would second because the project was in Behr's district but added "I think you are wrong."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said, "I wouldn't want to vote on this; I abstain." But after Supervisors Ludy and Castro voted in opposition, with Gnoss supporting Behr, Fusselman broke the 2-2 tie by voting no.

Behr declared "I don't think we should doff our hats to the supervisor of the district" and on this hint, with a reversed motion to uphold the planners, Gnoss joined the majority to leave Behr loser on a 4-1 vote.

No settlement was reached about another neighborhood storm center, application of E. P. Aureguy and H. G. MacKenzie to open a 72-bed convalescent home behind a medical center at 1123-1125 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

As supervisor of the district, Fusselman obtained continuance to May 22 to allow study of the site and review of the proposed Corte Madera flood control project, since several opponents felt the hospital would add to an already serious flood water problem.

Part of the premises to be used for the home are located over the Ross boundary and the Ross Town Council last week refused to allow such use, as commercial in a residential area.

FAIREST FOR THE FAIR

New Laurel Dell School Dedicated

Principal William M. Sewell last night accepted dedication of the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School in San Rafael before a crowd of more than 200 somewhat chilly guests.

During the ceremony, which was held in a covered area with only two walls at the rear of the school, Sewell reviewed special features of the school, including a large library and special conference room for the psychologist and speech teacher.

Timmy Bechtold, student body president, accepted a Bear flag from Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, Native Sons of the Golden West. It will be hung after a flag pole is put up.

Students moved into the school after the Christmas holidays. They had used a building on the Davidson School campus and the E Street School.

A RED CORRIDOR?

Laos Is Focal Point For Troop Movement

Nam was as remote as it was in other Southeast Asian nations.

It was restricted primarily to the capital cities. Farmers and tribesmen in the back country knew only what beaver-busy pro-Communist propagandists told them about the United States.

Ask a Lao or a Viet Names in the backwoods what he thinks of his government and its policies. He likely will say it's done nothing for him. In areas where he has come in to contact with government troops, civil defense forces or tax collectors, he says it meddles too much in his affairs.

All he wants, he says, is to be left alone and to be protected from marauding guerrillas so he can keep his rice bowl full.

The United States got into the tangle in Southeast Asia the way it got into many East-West tangles.

Communism is always probing for weak spots. Southeast Asia was a weak spot.

The West, lacing the relatively single-minded direction and control that Communist powers exercise, found itself on the defensive. It reacted as it has in the past, late.

Western diplomats say this is the nature of democracy and of free and independent sovereign governments trying to work in unison. But President John F. Kennedy says the United States bears major responsibility in the battle against communism. And responsibility means the right to make major decisions.

The United States started making major decisions in Southeast Asia late last year when Kennedy committed U.S. forces to the defense of South Viet Nam.

It announced another major decision yesterday committing U.S. forces, including combat elements, to the defense of Thailand.

The United States faces staggering physical problems, such as the terrain and lack of communications.

Most Southeast Asian nations are newly independent and jealous of sovereign rights. The U.S. role there is still technically advisory.

The United States has put 2.5 billion dollars into South Viet Nam in the last seven years under these conditions. And the strength of the pro-Communist forces has soared from 5,000 to 25,000 in the last two years, by U.S. estimate.

The question the United States has to solve is how to deal with a sovereign, independent ally and still get a job done.

There is a growing feeling on the scene that if the United States finds the answer to that question, it can still salvage what is left of Southeast Asia.

Woman Drunken Driver Is Fined

Mrs. Patricia Foster Crowley, 36, of 7 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, drew $166 fine and six months probation today for drunken driving.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced her for driving while intoxicated along Merrydale Road last Feb. 6.

If Mrs. Crowley has no violation for the next five months, the fine will be reduced by $56, the judge explained. This means she would pay only $110.

Hub School Needs Rooms Board Agrees

San Anselmo School District trustees decided last night they will have to find more rooms to rent next fall or classes at Wade Thomas School will go on double sessions.

The school's kindergarten is being held in the First Presbyterian Church. Court action is in process to acquire land for building additional classrooms.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi told the board that John Hackney, San Rafael appraiser, had completed a report on the feasibility of using the proposed Sunny Hills school site near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for a shopping center. Pre-trial conference to acquire the land for the school will be held May 21.

In other action the board:

1. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Mildred Alciati, Brookside School, who will teach in Berkeley; William Pike, same school, who will move to Oakhurst, Madera County; Mrs. Ruth Askine, Yolansdale School, whose husband will graduate from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in June and leave the area, and Mrs. Evelyn Woelz, Sleepy Hollow School.

2. Hired six new teachers: Donald Bozarth to teach upper grades at Sleepy Hollow School; Joanne Greenwald for third grade at Wade Thomas School; Mrs. Joan Taylor, second grade at Brookside School; Mrs. Loreen Wood, third grade at Yolansdale School; Mrs. Patricia Daley, speech therapist, and Miss Wanda Morgan, French teacher for eighth grades in three schools.

3. Granted tenure to Mrs. Frances Abramson, Wade Thomas School, and Mrs. Mary Ungersma, Brookside School.

Intoxicated Driver Fined

Harold Douglas Jones, 66, of Santa Rosa must pay $166 fine and remain on six months' probation for drunken driving.

He was sentenced Tuesday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. Jones was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Larkspur on Sunday.

Last Thursday, Judge Thomas sentenced John Carlisle Youngberg, 63, Ross, for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 on March 2. Youngberg drew $166 fine and six months probation.

Marin Catholic '9' Takes League Lead

Senior righthander Frank Burch pitched Marin Catholic Wildcats to undisputed possession of first place in the Marin Athletic League yesterday by beating the Redwood Giants on a one-hitter, 7-0.

Just wild enough to be effective, Burch walked seven batters but preserved his shutout by firing seven strikeouts at timely intervals. Only a lead-off single by shortstop Joe Weis in the first inning spoiled Burch's bid for a no-hitter.

Elsewhere yesterday San Rafael's streaking Bulldogs whacked Drake Pirates behind Jack Sovereign's four-hitter and the Tamalpais Indians outlasted Terra Linda 8-5 in nine innings.

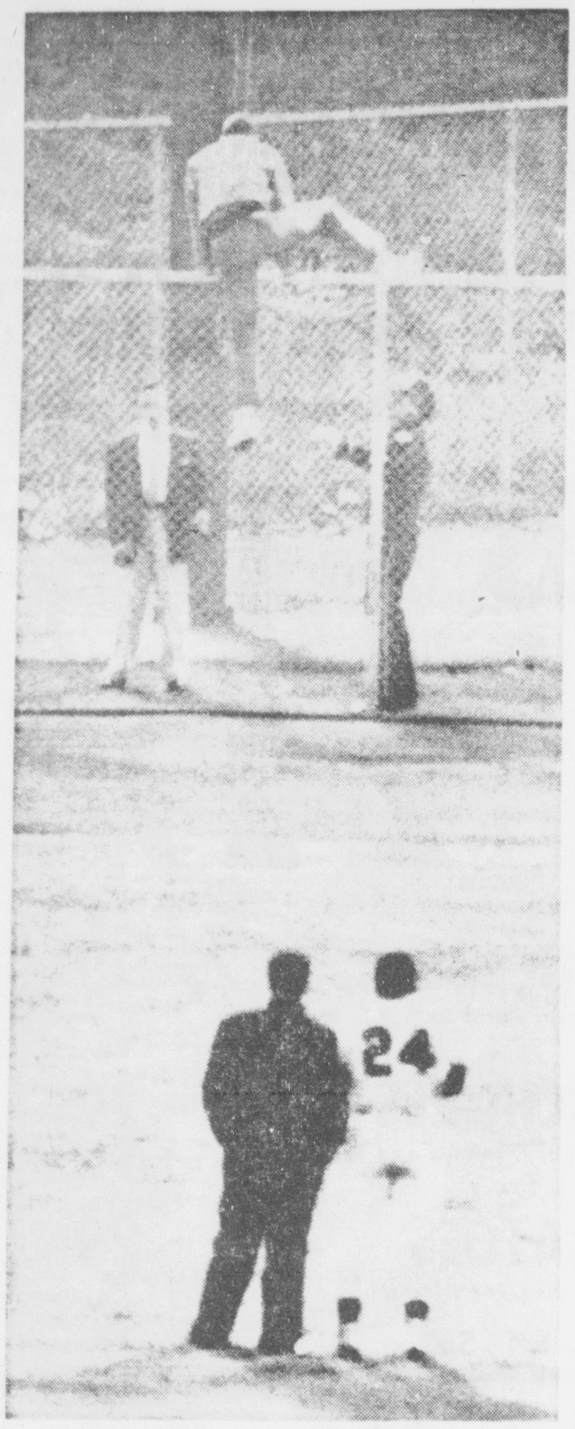
Burch got excellent support at bat and afield. His mates clouted 10 hits, including a double and three singles and a triple by Frank Ubhause.

It was the fifth straight errorless game by Marin as the Wildcats opened a one-game lead over Redwood in the title race.

At San Rafael, meanwhile, Alan Finley's bases loaded double in the fourth inning broke a 1-1 tie and sent the Bulldogs on their way to their fourth victory after losing their first six.

Tamalpais won its game in the top of the ninth at Terra Linda when Frank Dittle clouted a bases loaded single to score Dave Perlis and Bob Osborne with the go-ahead runs. Fred Mack was the winning pitcher in relief of Perlis.

Terra Linda's big noise came in the fifth when all five Trojan runs scored, thanks to timely hits by Mike Congdon, Jerry Daniele and Steve Fisher.



BYE, BYE, BABY!

An unidentified youth, last of several to climb the centerfield fence after visiting briefly with Willie Mays last night at Candlestick Park, is heading straight toward the strong arms of John Law on the other side of fence. This took place before start of seventh inning. Mays and umpire Dusty Boggess watch the unscheduled action. (AP Wirephoto)

Hiller Making Fast Start Toward Possible 'Rookie Of Year' Honors

CONNOLLY

Before the mob starts screaming and shouting about who is likely to be the candidate for the "Rookie of the Year" tag, we'd like to shove in a few words about "Chuck" Hiller, the Giant second baseman. I'll discount, of course the short duration of the 1962 season. It's early, real early; less than 40 games of a 162-game schedule, to start blowing horns for Chuck.

But putting the finger on the so-called "rookie" phenom, in spite of the early date, we've go to go along with Hiller.

In addition to being the most surprising "regular," Hiller is the most satisfying rookie. Most newcomers have an outstanding tribute that entitles them to recognition. In Hiller's case it's a dual reason — he's hitting like his form-chart showed in the higher minors and he's fielding in spectacular fashion. His defense seems to be his best offense. You can't say that Hiller's hitting has been any better than his fielding. Both have been excellent. But it looks from our pew that Hiller's hitting is at least the equal, if not better, than his defensive skill.

LAST YEAR in his somewhat brief major league stay, Hiller looked like a better infielder than a hitter. And this was contrary to the "book" of scouts, who maintained he was better at bat than in the field.

This year, the tables seemed to have switched. Chuck revels in hitting, yet suffers no weakness in fielding. When his hitting is good, his fielding is better and vice versa.

Hiller's confidence is pretty confident. He has faced the best pitchers in the National League and hasn't been fooled too often. He has hit timely, particularly in the clutch.

WITH THE exception of Ken Hubbs, the Chicago Cub second baseman, Cliff Cook of the Cincy Reds, and Julio Goty of the St. Louis Cardinals, there isn't too much competition so far for Hiller.

It's a great relief for Chuck the Giants are on top and he is an integral part, because when the Giants are entrenched as a favorite, his play attracts more attention and he is in the limelight much more faborably than if he were doing the same chores with a tail-end club.

Everybody loves a winner, especially a rookie on a pennant bound club, so let's hope Chuck continues in his meteoric climb up the ladder. He surprised me and Alvin Dark and a lot of others, unwilling to admit he was a longshot, starting off the season.

Davenport's Best Season

Mention Jim Davenport and one's thoughts flash to defense. It's a natural reaction because the San Francisco third baseman has been a fielding pillar for the Giants since his rookie season of 1958.

But this year his bat is talking loud and clear, all because "I'm finally learning to spray the ball," he explains.

His two hits last night helped the Giants past St. Louis 6-3 and carried Davenport to the National League batting lead at .343.

He tried to stretch his hitting streak to 12 games today as the Giants sent Juan Marichal (6-2) against Ray Sadecki (1-2). San Francisco sought its 16th home victory in 18 tries after handing Curt Simmons his first loss of the season.

Davenport picked up a run-producing double and a single in four trips last night to run his current hot streak to 17-for-38.

"He was a good hitter last year, too," insists Giants Manager Alvin Dark. But while a .278 average after three years in the .250s is a strong improvement, Davenport is far better so far this year because he's hitting to all fields instead of only to left.

Davenport has an 11-game hitting streak and 17-for-38 string going.

"When I came up I was a dead left field hitter," Davenport recalls. "I'll bet I didn't hit five balls to right field all year.

"But this spring I worked on hitting the ball to right. Alvin really helped me a lot because he was a spray hitter, too. I think now this could be my best year."

An accurate arm is probably Davenport's strongest fielding asset. "I just cut loose on every throw," he says. "If I try to aim the ball or ease up, that's when I throw it away."

Dark figures his man is even with Don Hoak of Pittsburgh and Ken Boyer of St. Louis as the league's top fielding third basemen.

Davenport's double off reliever Ray Washburn in the third inning last night sent home the final Giant run.

Four earlier two-baggers by Harvey Kuenn, Jose Pagan, Willie Mays and Felipe Alou had chased Simmons, who was seeking his sixth straight victory.

Bill White homered for St. Louis.

The win was San Francisco's 16th in 19 games and ninth straight at Candlestick Park.

Jerry Lucas Plans To Give Pro Basketball A Boost

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jerry Lucas, three-time All-America from Ohio State who repeatedly said he didn't want to play professional basketball, may have saved pro basketball in Cleveland, and he has given the year-old American Basketball League a shot in the arm.

The 6-8, 225-pound center, who led the Buckeyes to a national championship and two narrow misses, said in a copyrighted story in Sports Illustrated released yesterday he will sign a two-year contract with the Cleveland Pipers of the ABL.

Speculation has arisen that John Havlicek, Ohio State captain and Lucas' teammate for four years, also would accept a contract with the Pipers. Havlicek has been drafted by the Pipers and the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, who believe he would make a fine pass catcher, although he hasn't played football since high school.

With Lucas and Havlicek under contract, the ABL probably would be able to negotiate a national television deal similar to that under which National Basketball Association games are shown. Until now, the ABL didn't have any major personality attractions to interest prospective backers of televised games.

Lucas got a more lucrative offer—reportedly $100,000 and an automobile for a three-year contract—from the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA. His contract with the Pipers, according to Lucas, calls for a salary of about $10,000 a season, plus an investment portfolio worth $40,000.

Lucas said Pipers' president George Steinbrenner persuaded him to change his mind about not playing pro ball. Lucas added:

"The Pipers had carefully studied my objections to professional basketball. They came prepared with answers. Mr. Steinbrenner began at once that first day talking about education.

"He said the ABL schedule had been cut to about 70 games —at his suggestion—and would not open until December. Therefore I could finish school. He offered a two-year contract instead of three. After two years, he said, the Club would see that my way was paid through the graduate school of my choice.

Skin Divers Journey To Santa Cruz

The "Orcas Underwater Group," a Marin County skin diving club, will send three teams to the Central California Spear Fishing Championships at Santa Cruz next Sunday, announced George Tsegeletos, members.

The first 10 teams placing among the approximately 50 entered will qualify for the Pacific coast championships at Laguna Beach in Southern California July 8. (An additional Central California meet will be held at Salt Point, Sonoma County, June 17.)

Sunday's competition will begin at 11 a.m. at Cowells Beach, north of the city's main pier.

The men's Orcas teams will include Tsegeletos of Mill Valley Robert Camiccia of San Anselmo and Robert Foster of Fairfax on the first squad, and George Hartlmair of San Rafael, Paul Vasterling of Petaluma, and George Hiltabrand of Fairfax on the second squad.

Jeanne Hiltabrand, last year's women's Central California champion, will team with Adrienne Vasterling of Petaluma.

Tsegeletos expressed hope that the Marin teams will place among the top three Sunday.

Peter Snell Will Contend In Mile At Relays Friday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The world's newest king of the mile runners, Peter Snell of New Zealand, planned a serious workout today for the approaching Memorial Coliseum Relays—his only outdoor appearance this year in the United States.

"My next race after Friday night here will be in the Empire Games in Perth, Australia, late next November," said the big record holder following his arrival from Honolulu and his native land.

"We've been going since last November," he explained. "Our regular season ended in March. I had to work up to a new peak. And I've had some knee trouble."

Old Seal Joins CBL Umpire Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill Leonard, who caught for the old San Francisco Seals in 1939-40, and in 1947-48, has joined the California Baseball League staff of umpires.

Leonard, 39, coached at University of Santa Clara from 1958 through 1960.

A resident of Los Gatos, Leonard formerly owned the Lyndon Hotel there.

Vet Sportscaster Of L.A. Rams Has Been Hospitalized

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — Veteran sportscaster Bob Kelley suffered a coronary occulsion yesterday and was placed in the intensive care unit at Daniel Freeman Hospital.

"I'm sure he'll be all right but we won't know just how really serious it is. He's holding his own real good," Dr. Robert Woods, Kelley's physician, said.

He is a member of the sports staff of radio station KMPC and has been the broadcaster for the Los Angeles Rams pro football team since 1946.

Kelley also broadcast play-by-play for the Los Angeles Angeles baseball team in its first American League season here last year.

O. K. MEN, PASS THE MIRROR AROUND

Most businessmen today will ask you the same question: Where is the man or woman who has enough imagination and drive to be a day-by-day credit to his firm? Where is the man or woman who will conscientiously follow up on his sale to make certain his customer is completely happy with his purchase, his salesman, and his firm? Where is the man or woman who will have a plan and work his plan?

There are a few of these men and women around, but all too few. Most salesmen today believe the "house" is the basic source of income, and the activity the "house" generates will determine their income potential.

On the other hand the successful salesman will make all the money he wants and needs regardless of the activity within his establishment by going out and working. His customers are never neglected. They never get the feeling they have been forgotten immediately after their purchase. They'll go out of their way to refer friends to this salesman. The pyramiding of his contacts will give the successful salesman little time to brood about the extent of activity within his employer's establishment.

When an employer operates within a policy which is completely ethical, he must rely on his representatives to tell his story to more and more potential customers. He cannot shout his own praises in public print or on the air with monotonous regularity and expect all the business he needs to come to him of its own accord. The salesman is essential to his success. A salesman has sold every basic advance we have enjoyed throughtout the centuries.

This is why it is tempting sometimes to ask some of our salesmen at Ames Ford during morning sales meetings, "Pass the mirror along, men, breathe on it and see if you fog the glass. If not, brother, you're in trouble — you may not be living."

Duffer's Pro

Try Gentle Touch

By DOUG SANDERS

The best way to stay out of trouble on a golf course is not to get into it.

But that's small consolation when your ball dribbles into a trap or the rough. So I'd say the next best way to get out of trouble is to concentrate on getting the ball back in play, not trying to slam it out 200 yards dead to the pin. Too many duffers try to bull their way out of trouble only to land in more trouble.

If you're in a trap and it has no lip, and you have a long way to go to the green, you may try a 4 or 5 wood. But you must keep the club from hitting the sand. That's a rule.

Closer in, Gary Player has developed a deadly combination blast and chip from traps as far as 40 yards from the green. He chokes up on a sand wedge and hits the sand about a half inch behind the ball. The flange of the wedge prevents the club from digging into the sand. You swing it, not scoop with it, and the club head is so heavy anyway it almost swings itself.

In a trap—and anywhere else—play relaxed. Get a firm footing wiggling your feet in the sand. This also helps tell you the sand texture.

You play the ball off your left foot. Take the left foot back from the line of flight. Since the club face is open, you must aim to the left of the target. Hit about an inch behind the ball and follow through to git it spin.

On a buried ball, close the face of the club and play the ball more off the center of your body and hit closer behind it. In a really deep trap you may do better to play out on the lowest side even if it's not the way to the green. The idea is to save strokes—and your temper.

In the rough, open the club and hit down at the ball rather than try to pick it up. Play the ball more off the middle. Keep the long irons for another time. They don't have enough loft. The more the trouble, the more open club face you need.

One of the smarter shots I've seen didn't take power or a lovely Sneadish swing. Even the weekend hacker could duplicate it.

It happened in the Insurance City Open last year when Ted Kroll was about 30 yards from the seventh green which sloped down to a sand trap in front. The pin was near the trap and an approach chip would have had to be perfect to hold the green.

So Kroll took his putter, examined the trap to make sure his ball could roll through, and fired away. His shot stopped 20 feet beyond the pin but he got down in two putts for his par and saved himself more dangerous risks.

So there is such a thing as playing through trouble as well as over it and out of it.

DISCUSSION ON WARRIORS S.F. MOVE SET

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A spokesman for a group trying to bring the National Basketball Association Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco says league owners will meet in New York to discuss the proposed move.

Tom Gray, spokesman for the San Francisco group, announced the meeting at an impromptu press conference during Tuesday night's San Francisco Giants-St. Louis baseball game at Candlestick Park.

He said it will be held Thursday if Fred Zollner, owner of the Detroit Pistons, can be reached. Zollner is on a hunting trip.

If the owner can't be reached, the meeting will be scheduled for sometime next week, Gray said.

League owners bypassed the Warrior franchise switch question at their May 3 meeting.

AFTER 30,000 BOUTS

Old St. Nick's In New York Will Soon Be Only Memory

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Primo Carnera sat on a bare wooden bench in one of the gloomy dressing cubicles and acted as pleased as if it was the anteroom of the White House.

"This is fine," he said with a snaggle-toothed smile, reaching down with one massive paw to rub the giant bas relief road map the varicose veins made on his legs.

"This time I am making good money," he added as he stowed his wrestling gear in a battered bag. "And this time I am keeping it."

It's one of the memories you retain of the odorous muscle barn which is St. Nicholas Arena. A place which soon will be no more as they tear it down to raise a new television office building.

Like the night the wasp-waisted blond kid named Frankie Ryff scored his 16th victory in a row. He didn't care that the floors creaked and that the air was heavy with the ages of ground in dust and body-heated liniment.

"I know I'll win the title," said the curly-haired lightweight. "I love to fight and I know I'll make it to the top."

This, too, was in the basement dressing rooms at St. Nick's. And the hope was so bright and fresh in him that it was almost as if somebody had opened a window. Even though there weren't any.

They all fought there down through the years since the first card was presented in 1906. Through 10 years before that this had been an ice skating arena.

But in the 56 years that followed it was a cauliflower haven where such of the storied showed their wares as Sam Langford, Jack Johnson, Jess Willard, Abe Attell, Stanley Ketchel and Harry Greb, right up through Benny Leonard and such later hooking heroes as Rocky Graziano, Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson.

As boxing limped along, its gladiators gobbled up by the voracious appetite of television, the arena which the fight mob always referred to as "the rink" tried gallantly to keep the supply of youngsters coming. But the numbers weren't there any more and to nurse the place along they filled it with a lot of other events: rassling, hockey, bowling, table tennis and dog shows; ball room dancing and bar mitzvahs and even weddings and wakes.

Yet it will be remembered mostly for the boxing that was its life down through 56 tumultuous years.

And boxers like the kid named Ryff whose hopes and dreams were smashed by brittle hands. For it was here, where he had started so enthusiastically, that he tried a doomed comeback.

"What can I do?" he said bitterly. "I made some dough but I lost it in a bad investment. There's nothing left but try to get another stake fighting."

So he dropped the decision and then dropped out of sight. And, when you saw that he had been critically injured in a fall on a construction job you had to think again of those two vastly different nights.

BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Nave Lanes Big Success In Tourney; Prize Kitty Hiked

Nave Lanes of Ignacio, youngest of 31 northern California bowling houses participating in the Gold Coast Singles Classic, also is the busiest in tournament play.

That was the word yesterday from Gold Coast Director Bill McGowan who reported the Nave center "has taken a commanding lead over the other houses in the number of entries." The Nave entry list easily passed the 500 mark last week, meaning the prize money kitty gets a big boost in the arm.

First prize was boosted from $225 to $300, 10 other cash prizes received increases and the Nave house now will be able to send 11 men to the grand finals in Reno this summer, instead of 7 as originally planned. At Reno the grand prize is $2,000 and the smallest is $100.

With their guaranteed quota of 500 surpassed after only four weeks of the 10-week qualifying tourney, the Naves appear well on their way to the entry championship in spirited competition with the other 30 participating houses.

Last week's qualifiers for the house finals slated late in June were Ralph Hedemark of Vallejo with a 683, handicap included, in the upper division (165 average and over) and Dr. Robert Pattocchi of Novato with a 680 in the lower division (164 and under).

Other top notch efforts in the upper division were rolled by George Carlson 671, Virgil Dodson 654, Nick Laufenberg 653, Jack Gilass 652, Rrt Calizo 668, Rol Walberg 645, Jay Sharp 641, and Jim "Deaddog" Smith 641. In the lower division, Harry Clausing 659, Gerry Fullerton 644, Art Le Duc 638, and Milt Schwartz 633.

All of these men will have a chance of qualifying for the House Finals if their scores remain in the top 10 per cent of their respective divisions at the end of 10 weeks.

In the newly formed Summer 540 Trio League, 14 teams answered the call this year compared to only 10 last summer, and they started off with a wham. Budd Dodd fired a big 847 — 204-199-222-222 for his four games, followed by Jack Vallee's 839—234-221 and Dick Treadway's nice 815—225-208.

Bill Howey rolled a 607—233 in the finals of the Hawaiian League, leading his Bret Harte team to the championship.

High games for the week were rolled by Bob MacEachern, a 244, in the Trio League and a 245 by Dick Truesdell a 245 in the Gold Coast.

Jan King had both, high series and high game for the women this past week. She shot a 564 series and a 233 game in the Hawaiian League.

Summer leagues are now getting under way in the scratch category and new leagues are being formed in the handicap and mixed doubles participation. There is plenty of room for all bowlers, Nave reported.

Week's highlights:

Friday Mixed Doubles — Leon Wallace 528—223, Phyllis Telesco 504—201, Bob MacEachern 559—214, Lucille Latson 475—175.

Juniors — Gene Helbing 550—194-189, Paul Panholzer, 547—221, Gary Muir 495—204, Bob Levy 501—176-185, Frank Silva 180, Bob Sigler 181, Sherri Gibson 156.

Bulldog Net Team Wins Over Giants

San Rafael High School's classy net team continued atop the Marin County Athletic League tennis ladder Monday by defeating the Redwood High squad 4-1.

Hillard Witt of the Giants prevented a Bulldog sweep when he outlasted Greg Parkerson 6-2, 0-6, 6-1 in the No. 2 singles match.

Harvey Klyce beat Sam Mercer 6-0, 6-0, and Bill Clarke trimmed Harry Johnson 6-1, 6-3 for Bulldog victories in the other two singles clashes. San Rafael won both doubles matches with Ron Klyce and Rick Dykes defeating Charles Cauldwell and Dave Lindsey 7-5, 6-4, and Randy Laverte and Ivy Cook trouncing Don Rogers and Bill Wardwell 6-2, 6-3.

Woodacre Resident Wins Expert Rifle Medal From NRA

The Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in American qualifications shooting has been won by Daniel Wray Simmons of Woodacre, National Rifle Assn. announced here today.

Shooting several hundred targets in the last few months, the new expert marksman fired his way through 13 lower NRA qualifications to achieve the rating. The new expert is a member of the Marin Rod and Gun Junior Rifle Club.

Simmons attends 3 R Schools and fired his qualifying scores under the tutelage of George Finney of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Men's Tourney Scheduled For This Weekend

The Belvedere Tennis Club will hold its annual men's doubles championship tournament starting this coming weekend.

Final matches will be played May 26 and 27.

A perpetual trophy will be awarded to the winners of the tournament which has been an outstanding event of the club for the past three years.

A women's tournament is scheduled to follow the men's event.

BROILER-FRYERS are the most versatile foods that can be adapted to unlimited variations. In this recipe illustrated, a tangy barbecue sauce enhances the flavor of broiled chicken. One serving of barbecued chicken contains about 260 calories.

Zesty Barbecue Sauce Recipes

One of the difficulties in staying on a reducing diet is the blandness of low-calorie menus. A way to maintain the diet and enjoy it at the same time is to include sugar-containing foods, without exceeding calorie limits and without straining the budget.

For example, here are some zesty barbecue sauce recipes for barbecued chicken which contains enough sugar to satisfy the appetite and still not add many calories. The new improved broiler-fryers now available are tops nutrition-wise, quality-wise and offer the best value in relation to price. One serving of broiled chicken with orange sauce contains 260 calories and with barbecue sauce, the calorie count is 319.

Accompany chicken entree with asparagus spears, garden salad, small portion of crusty bread, four apricots (canned) with 2 tablespoons syrup and coffee or tea with one teaspoon sugar. Total calories for the meal is approximately 505 to 564, depending on which barbecue sauce is served.

BARBECUED CHICKEN WITH ORANGE SAUCE

3 broiler-fryer chickens, halved or quartered
Salt and pepper
3 teaspoons Ac'cent (Monosodium glutamate)

Sprinkle each chicken with monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper. Barbecue according to directions. Serve with Orange Sauce.

Outdoor Grill method: Place chicken, skin side up, on grate set 6 to 12 inches from heat. Brush with orange sauce. Cook slowly until tender, turning and basting occasionally. Allow 1 to 1¼ hours total cooking time. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should be fork tender.

OVEN BROILER METHOD: Set oven to moderate (350°F). Line pan with aluminum foil. Place chicken, skin side down, on broiler pan; brush with sauce over cut side of chicken. Broil ½ hour on each side, brushing occasionally with sauce.

Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

ORANGE DUNKING SAUCE

1 cup orange marmalade
¼ cup brown sugar
⅓ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon cayenne

Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Place over medium heat; bring to boil. Simmer two minutes, stirring constantly, until marmalade is melted and all ingredients are blended. Yield: 2 cups.

TOMATO BARBECUE SAUCE

½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup tomato puree
½ cup lemon juice
¼ cup Worcestershire Sauce
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon liquid hot pepper seasoning

Combine all ingredients. Brush chicken with barbecue sauce before broiling.

Home-Cooked Meal A Present

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There are more ways than one to give a lift, return a courtesy, or just plain express your affection.

A present doesn't always have to be something "bought-en"—it can be a take-along meal. Perhaps this idea stems from the old-fashioned "contributed" church supper, but carried out in highly personal form it can be an unexpected and delightful surprise for the recipient.

A SALAD appeared in an interesting and new-to-us combination — shredded green cabbage (for slaw) plus a mold made from yogurt, orange juice and lemon gelatin. The cabbage had been shredded ahead but its dressing was borrowed from my kitchen. The gelatin concoction had been brought in its covered mold and unmolded on the spot.

Packaged refrigerated biscuits (brought along but baked at supper time) and coffee finished off the menu.

Everyone helped put the supper dishes into my dishwasher, and tidied up the kitchen. If you elect to use this menu as a gift, and the recipient doesn't have a dishwasher, we strongly advise you to add paper plates and cups to the basket that holds the supper.

ROWENA'S SALAD

1 package (3 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup orange juice
½ pint yogurt
1 envelope Parmesan salad dressing mix
Shredded green cabbage (about 6 cups)

Stir the gelatin and boiling water together until gelatin dissolves; stir in the orange juice. Gradually stir the gelatin mixture into the yogurt; gently beat to make smooth. Turn into six ½ cup molds. Chill until firm. Meanwhile make up salad dressing mix according to package directions (for basic recipe) but using lemon juice instead of vinegar; refrigerate; just before serving, toss cabbage with enough of the dressing to moisten and season. Mound slaw on salad greens and surround with unmolded gelatin mixture. Makes 6 servings.

Note: To increase quantity of gelatin mixture so it can be molded in a 1-quart container, dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water and add the orange juice. Now chill until slightly thickened. Add yogurt and beat until increased in volume and fluffy. Turn into mold and chill until firm; unmold. Texture will be airy.

FROZEN STRAWBERRY TURNOVERS

Perennial Dessert Treat

Frozen turnovers, the perennial dessert treat, are now available in that most favorite of all flavors — Strawberry. Rich, tender puff pastry surrounds a strawberry filling that has just the right degree of tartness and sweetness. When brought to the table warm and freshly baked they are a luscious dessert as is or with a dusting of confectioners' sugar. But further embellished with whipped cream, ice cream (how about strawberry ripple?) or any of the following dessert toppings they are an unsurpassed feast.

FLUFFY LEMON TOPPING. In a small deep bowl beat one egg white until fluffy. Gradually add 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and beat until thick and marshmallowy. Carefully stir in 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon lemon rind and a dash of salt. Serve at once on strawberry turnovers and garnish with fresh strawberries, if desired.

CHEESE PINEAPPLE TOPPING. Blend together 1 cup cream style cottage cheese with ½ cup crushed pineapple, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon rum if desired. Serve chilled on strawberry turnovers.

Offer One Combination Of Food Guests Not Expecting

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What makes a good hostess?

Want to enter the ranks of this particular Elysian field? Then no matter how much earnest labor you put into the preparation of a company meal, serve it with a light heart and a warm welcome.

Our latest offering with ham is that combination of cheddar cheese, bread, egg and milk that goes under several names — fondue, strata, puff. Although this is often served by itself as a main dish for lunch or supper, we find its flavors are excellent with ham. Our contribution to this standard recipe is to layer pimiento in the fondue and it adds a delectable and interesting note.

Fresh asparagus is great on this menu. Serve it hot if you like; or marinate the cooked spears in a savory French dressing and arrange them on salad greens.

PIMIENTO CHEESE FONDUE

8 slices bread
1½ cups packed-down coarsely grated cheddar cheese
1 can (4 ounces) pimiento (drained and cut fine)
3 large eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk

Trim crusts from bread; place 4 slices in the bottom of a baking dish (about 8 by 8 by 2 inches. Sprinkle with cheese and pimiento. Arrange remaining 4 slices bread over top. Beat eggs until foamy; add salt, pepper, paprika and milk, beat to combine; pour over bread, pimiento and cheese. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven until golden brown—about 45 minutes. Serve at once. Sides of fondus should be crusty, inside custardy. Makes 6 to 8 servings as a meat accompaniment, 4 large servings if offered as a main dish.

PLENTY OF SMOKE—AND TRAINING FOR FIREMEN

Novato firemen put the torch late Monday to a row of abandoned chicken houses owned by French Jacks at 571 Wilson Avenue, Novato. Many spectators arrived to watch the fire, as firemen were given an exercise in controlling it, then letting it flare up again. The chicken houses, built by Fred Miller in 1923, took four hours to burn to the ground. Jacks went out of the poultry business seven years ago. (Independent-Journal photo)

Trading Stamp Tax Losses Under Fire

FRESNO (AP)—A proposal to stop California stores which use trading stamps from pocketing small amounts of sales tax they collect from customers was presented to the State Board of Equalization in Fresno Monday.

Harry L. Say, assistant executive secretary to the board, said the proposal would implement 1961 legislation which holds retail stores can collect taxes only on the amount of a purchase after a cash discount is made.

He said a court decision holds trading stamps to be cash discounts.

He told the board since trading stamps are cash deductions, retail stores must pay the Board of Equalization a 4 per cent sales tax on items after the value of the stamps is deducted.

The proposal would give retailers alternative methods of complying with the 1961 law.

1. Adjust the price of the article so the consumer is charged only the amount of the tax the store has to pay to the state.

2. Give the customer more trading stamps to make up the difference.

3. Do not claim the cost of trading stamps given customers as a deduction in computing the tax.

State Fish And Game Department Launches Biggest Wildlife Study

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Fish and Game Department has launched the biggest fish and wildlife study in its history in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

The department hopes to determine during the five-year survey how to save fishing and hunting in what is fast becoming one of California's major recreational areas.

The Delta has been assigned the role of pooling place for the water moving from north to south under the State Water Plan.

A series of dams, pumps and siphons would be required under any one of four water plans now under consideration for the delta.

Robert L. Jones, former manager of the Fish and Game Department's San Francisco region, will head the delta study.

He said there are two types of problems—first, the effect of physical barriers and other facilities on fish and game; and second, the changes in environment — temperature, humidity and currents—brought on by the engineering projects.

Jones said a total of three million "man days" were logged by people seeking recreation in the Delta last year. Two-thirds of the total was spent in fishing.

Jones and his 14-member survey team will move to Stockton in June. Headquarters for the survey will be the new Division of Beaches and Park district office.

Felon Arraigned In Knifing Case

Angel R. Nino, 24, Los Angeles robber, has been arraigned in Marin Superior Court on a charge of knifing a fellow San Quentin Prison inmate last Feb. 27.

Judge Thomas F. Keating continued his plea to Monday. Nino is charged with attacking Riverside County narcotics violator Alex Luchuga in the prison's adjustment center.

Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Ronald M. Averiette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Averiette of 50 Domingo Avenue, Fairfax, has completed recruit training at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

ADVERTISING CHIEF — Charles R. Stuart Jr. of Belvedere has been elected president of the San Francisco Advertising Club. Stuart, 3 Crest Road, is advertising manager of Bank of America in San Francisco. He is also president of the Milline Club in San Francisco

Assessor, Opponent To Appear On KTIM

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel and retired Navy Capt. Charles Richard Burtz of Corte Madera, who is seeking Broemmel's position in the June 5 election, will appear on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow.

Each candidate will be given 12 minutes to speak and then will answer questions from the listener audience on the program from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m., said moderator Kitty Oppenheimer.

The program will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

On May 24 Proposition "A," the proposed tax for Marin College District, will be the topic of discussion, Mrs. Oppenheimer said.

Hub Resident Becoming President Of Matson

Stanley Powell Jr., 130 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo, has been named president of Matson Navigation Co.

He will succeed Randolph Sevier, who has been president since 1950 and is retiring from active management June 6. Sevier will become chairman of the board of directors.

Powell, 45, joined the 80-year-old shipping firm in 1941, going to sea on the Lurline in the purser's department. He was commissioned in the Navy during World War II but returned to Matson after his discharge in 1945. He has been executive vice president since January, 1961.

Besides being president, director and chairman of the executive committee of Matson Navigation Co., Powell also becomes president of Oceanic Steamship Co.

Group Supports College Expansion

The Kentfield Civic League Tuesday night voted unanimous support to the College of Marin expansion program which calls for a 35-cent tax increase to be presented to voters June 5.

The approval followed a presentation by Theodore Wellman, chairman of the citizens committee for College of Marin expansion.

The civic league has scheduled a meeting for May 28 at College of Marin where the proposition will be explained to Kentfield residents.

Two Arraigned On Car Theft Charge

Joe Ralph Marion, 32, of 302 Main Street, and John H. Wheelwright, 28, of 244 Oakdale Avenue, both Mill Valley, have been arraigned in Marin Superior Court on a charge of stealing a car in Fairfax on April 23.

Judge Thomas F. Keating continued their plea to May 28.

Arraignment of Leroy Raymond Willey, 30, a paroled convict of 1801 Marion Street, Novato, also charged with car theft in the same case, was continued to May 28.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said Willey, on parole from a bad check sentence in San Quentin Prison, was in Ross General Hospital with tuberculosis.

Schools Need Your 'Yes' On Prop. 1 For Classrooms

Proposition 1 on the June 5 ballot is a familiar one to most California voters. For 13 years we have regularly been voting state school building bonds so that funds would be available for school construction when needed. This year we are asked to provide $200,000,000 in bonds which will be sold and the money loaned or granted to school districts.

We are not among those who feel that the money will be "repaid" to the state because most school districts will pay off the loans. The school districts use tax funds too, so it really doesn't matter one way or the other. We need schools and the taxpayers must provide them.

What the bond issues have done, and will do again, is to provide cash when needed in sums large enough to do the job of providing classrooms for our children.

This isn't the cheapest way to build school houses. Pay-as-you-go could provide the same amount of space and facilities for about half as much money (bond interest approximately doubles the cost).

But most school districts aren't able to carry on a pay-as-you-go financing problem. Those that are, and they are few indeed in Marin, have our highest commendation.

For those that aren't, the state school bonds are more than needed. They are a necessity if we are to continue a good school system throughout California. There is no other way at present to provide schools in hundreds of districts.

The State Allocations Board has in the past and at present done a good job of administering the funds from these bonds. Although we have on occasion deplored individual instances of unwarranted interference in local school policies by state officials using these funds as a club, in general the school construction program has been highly successful.

Thus we would urge the voters of Marin County once again to support the school construction bond issue and to vote "Yes" on Proposition 1 at the primary election.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

MOTHERS FIND A WAY

A crowd of determined mothers lined up to prevent a school bus, carrying their children, from crossing an old bridge they considered unsafe.

When the parents in New Hamburg, N.Y., were threatened with arrest for obstructing traffic, they hit upon another plan. Each mother exercised her parental right to take her child off the vehicle and walked him across the bridge.

Whatever the pros and cons of this particular instance, it does serve to bring out a truth that is fundamental to our form of government: namely, that the God-given rights of parents over their children normally take precedence over those of the government.

The Supreme Court in 1925, enunciated this basic American principle in this way: "The child is not the mere creature of the state; those who nurture him and direct his destiny have the right, coupled with the high duty, to recognize and prepare him for additional obligations."

Keep this in mind, let it guide your actions.

"Correct your son, and he will bring you comfort, and give delight to your soul." (Proverbs 29:17)

Help me, O Lord, never to shirk my parental, religious or patriotic obligations.

It's A Wise Mother Who Knows How To Always Remain Wanted

NEW YORK (AP)—She had spent as long a time as she felt she could afford to be with them.

She knew if she spent another day she wouldn't belong as deeply as if she left now.

"You know we want you to stay here as long as you want to, mother," said her son-in-law.

"Yes, Mama," said her dutiful daughter. "Mother's Day wouldn't have been Mother's Day unless you had shared it with us."

"Well, it's awfully nice of you to say it," replied the old lady, looking absentmindedly but accurately around.

She reached over and straightened up the nearest cushion.

"You have such a nice place here," she remarked, looking around to the disorder of living she yearned to organize.

"Mama, I know it isn't as it ought to be," said her daughter.

"Well," replied her mother tactfully, "I know you have so much to do. I always say that busy hands make busy purposes. Now where did I learn that?"

She hesitated, glanced lovingly around the room, then said:

"I hate to say goodby for now without saying goodby to the children."

"They're out of the house," said her son-in-law. "God knows where."

"Mama, you can't leave without saying goodby to the children," said her daughter. "I'll get them here."

"Jill," she cried.

"Christopher!" she cried.

"Joseph Emanuel Jr.," she cried, "Come here! Now, I say!

"Come her and say goodby to grandma. She's going going away."

"I'm ashamed of you, I really am, children," she said. "After all, grandma made such an attempt to be with us. The least you could do is kiss her when she has to go away."

"G'BYE, GRANDMA," said the children racing away.

"It's been nice to have you with us, mother," said her son-in-law, awkwardly but truly. "Come again whenever you can."

"Well, I declare," said the old lady, "You'd think a person wasn't going to see each other again!"

And she left them—wanting her back again.

Public School Week Held Treat

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

During the recent Public Schools Week, a neighbor of junior high school age extended an invitation to me to view the art display at Santa Venetia Junior High School.

What a treat it was to see such a high calibre of craftsmanship, such a variety of styles and materials. In general, one could sense an overwhelming sense of pride in a "job well done" on the part of both student and teacher.

So They Agreed On 70 Ideas

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re: San Rafael City Hall Design.

"Once upon a time," there lived an architect. He was a modest, charming, sincere fellow: a prince among men. He had 70 true friends whose opinions and advice he invariably heeded.

One fine day the King of the land summoned him to the royal chamber. "Architect," he said, "I wish you to create for me a royal edifice to house my affairs of state. It must be of the finest material available. It must be the finest monument in my kingdom. It must be a magnificent inspiration dedicated to my worthiness. Go then, and prepare the necessary delineations that I may see the monument's image, before the masons hammer rings out in earnest toil."

And as the architect bowed forth backward from the royal chamber he thought, "Truly I have been chosen by fate to create this dream of my profession. I shall seek my friends and to all 70 of them speak of my good fortune." And so he did.

And it came to pass that the architect did indeed begin depicting on royal vellum the fruits of his life's experience. He toiled for 70 days and for 70 nights and always there was beside him one of his true friends. At the end of 70 days he completed the task.

He sought audience with the King to demonstrate his wares. "Oh King," he said, "here is thy royal structure; truly a gem to outshine your fondest expectations!" And King was pleased and decreed that the construction should begin.

When the labor was done and the last stone in place, the architect summoned Kit and said, while placing a golden key in his hand, "With this key unlock yon door to behold the beauty that I have created for you."

And so King did unlock the oaken timber and entered. Once inside the massive doors, King saw a sight to behold. There were 70 rooms, each design of a different period and of a different material.

King entered a hall of Egyptian grandeur with tulip head columns that led to a corridor of Roman arches. As he passed through Grecian portico and into a Baroque doorway he was heard to say, "Indeed, it is a magnificent work, but it leaves my mind troubled for it follows no uniformity of character."

"Why," he asked, "Architect, is it that there are 70 rooms of 70 styles of beauty and no two alike?"

"Oh," said the architect, "I could not determine the most suitable style for the true depiction of your worthiness. I consulted with my 70 true friends and they each in turn spokes to me of their impression. It follows, therefore, that each opinion in its own right was a solution to the design and I could not bear to offend by choosing among them. To avoid the sorrow of lost friendship, I incorporated the total experience into one attached assembly; a piece which everyone can enjoy. This way no one can be offended or sorrowed."

And the King laughed because he had to.

All Developers, Try Tiburon!

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

"Tiburon Turkey Top Secret."

Attention to all developers and investors. Tiburon welcomes you. Planning on building a supermarket, duplex, apartment, gasoline station, or glue factory? Yes! Then Tiburon is the place for you.

But hurry, there are only a few choice "undersized lots" and several "green belt strips" still available. Or if you prefer, with little effort arrangements can be made with the Planning Commission to recommend that "one" or "two" residential sites "here" and "there" be rezoned to accommodate you.

This dedicated body of professionals is most cooperative and willing to compromise. They have a direct line to the Board of Supervisors, eliminating an inconvenience or delay, thus protecting you and your investment 100 per cent.

Don't delay, ground can be broken before the competition (residential home owners) has the slightest intimation of what's going on.

Sound good? Principals only! All deals are hush-hush!

Khrushchev Says It Again In Interview With Look Publisher

WASHINGTON—It would be well if every American could read the full text of the interview which Nikita Khrushchev recently gave to Gardner Cowles, editor of Look magazine. It is worth reading not because Mr. K. breaks new ground, but because he ploughs all the old ground so unyieldingly.

It was a three-hour interview, too lengthy to be published generally. Therefore, I am going to extract Premier Khrushchev's own words on the crucial issue, the issues which divide the world.

MR. K. ON WAR—Communism must achieve victory not through war between states . . . we are against aggressive wars. We recognize the lawfulness of national-liberation wars . . . A national-liberation war is a war waged when a nation, which is oppressed by the colonists, takes up arms to achieve liberation."

HIS MEANING—To Moscow any non-Communist government, which pursues policies unsatisfactory to the Kremlin, is automatically dominated by "colonists" and therefore any Communist-managed war against it is "lawful." Examples: the Communist invasion of South Viet Nam, the Communist attack on South Korea, the Communist war against Greece in the late 'forties. Khrushchev stands firmly against war except when waged by Communists.

MR. K. ON INSPECTION—"Scientists have proved that nuclear shots anywhere in the world can be pinpointed by the instruments we already have. This is why those who insisted on inspections unwittingly expose themselves."

HIS MEANING—The truth is that scientists have proved no such thing. Instruments disclose when there is an unexplained earth tremor. Only on-site inspection can determine whether it is nuclear or natural.

MR. K. ON SELF-DETERMINATION—"We are for non-interference in the affairs of others. The people of each country must decide these questions"—that is, the kind of economy and the kind of government they want.

HIS MEANING—He means just the opposite, because Moscow has practiced just the opposite. Wherever the Red Army was in control after the war, the Kremlin imposed Communist governments without permitting "the people to decide these questions." Mr. K favors our non-interference and his total interference.

MR. K. ON BERLIN—"It is the presence of Western forces in West Berlin to which we cannot agree."

HIS MEANING—No translation needed. That's what he means: we should get out of West Berlin and leave the city free for Communist conquest.

Cowles who, when he tries, can be blaned as Khrushchev, asked a beautiful question toward the end of the interview. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, earlier in our conversation you spoke of the desirability of wars of liberation for the liberation of colonial peoples. But cannot a situation arise where it would be necessary to wage a liberative war for the liberation of the territory of some Communist country?"

Mr. K's reply to this unexpected query can fairly be summarized in five words: "Mr. Cowles, you are confused."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Color In Cells Doesn't Make Prison Desirable, But Helps Make It Easier

Friends, so-called, often profess great amusement over my interest in San Quentin Prison.

It's true that I've been "in" quite a number of times. That I didn't stay long is probably due to one bit of thoughtfulness others might well copy. I have a gate pass.

The boys will be pleased to know one doesn't have to go over the wall, or wait and wait for the Parole Board. Not necessarily.

First and last I've seen a number of prisons, ranging from that grim "stir" for women on New York's West Side, where I was a near neighbor, to the great Ward Road Gaol in Shanghai.

NOBODY WANTED to stay in any of them. But tough as it is to be confined anywhere, San Quention strikes me as—well, anyway a lot better than it might be. Let it go at that. You can't really be very cheery about the Big House.

In their way the people who run San Quentin, "Bastille By the Bay" as the prison newspaper calls it, strike me as a dedicated bunch.

They have plenty of problems, unavoidable troubles, knifings and escapes and no doubt an ever-present feeling that they're sitting on the proverbial powder keg. You just can't keep a lot of people in confinement and have it otherwise.

BUT THEIR ATTITUDE is both calm and kindly, so far as I can detect. Their thinking is far from medieval.

With no sanctimoniousness, and acting realistically, they are helping a lot of depressed, often desperate, inevitably rebellious men to get better organized in life and to come to terms with it.

"Punishment" is a word we didn't hear once during a recent evening at San Quentin.

We looked the place over, dined, heard a panel discussion among several who have a lot to do with running the place. No talk about "paying a debt to society" or any of that hogwash.

On the other hand, much of what we saw had to do with the 19 occupations one can learn in San Quentin. (I'm just counting the honest kind.)

It seems an odd place to learn about landscape gardening, but that's one of the jobs. You can find out about shoe repairing, being a dental technician, making furniture, working with cotton. Unions are cooperative in all this.

Without writing a free ad for San Quentin, one may say that the viewpoint of prison officials in teaching these things is of interest.

They can be tough. If they have a mean but necessary job to do they do it.

ON OUR INSPECTION tour my heart bumped into my Adam's apple, hard, as I unexpectedly stepped into sight of an iron cage with two chairs inside. The last time I saw it Caryl Chessman was on one of the chairs, dying, finally dead.

But even Chessman had spoken well in general of the prison officials. He held nothing against them that finally they might at last make him face death.

Nobody at San Quentin likes executions. Nobody likes a lot of other things which for one reason or another at this point in penal history still have to be.

One of those things is that twice as many men are packed into this 110-year-old heap as it ought to hold. Personally, I'd pay taxes gladly to improve physical conditions in San Quentin; a lot more so than to help foreign countries, though I've lived abroad.

What can be done to ease things is being done, notably in the effort to improve the capabilities of inmates for becoming self-supporting, self respecting men once they're "outside" once more.

INSTEAD OF eternal somber gray the prison officials give color where they can. We walked through a cell block in which each cell was a different tint. It was still a cell, but easier to take. I'll bet that in its way this helps men adjust.

On the walls of the dining halls are quite fine murals, done by inmates.

Those things give cheer. They arouse pride. I don't want to live with them, but I'm glad they are where they are.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

The coroner shot a sympathetic glance at the widow dressed in black, with tears streaming down her face. "Can you recall your husband's last words?" he asked gently. "Indeed I can," sobbed the distraught widow. "He said, 'Don't try to scare me with that shotgun. You couldn't hit the side of a barn'."

Billy Rose tells the story of a well known ham actor who gave up Broadway and became a surgeon. He removed an appendix so skillfully one morning that several doctors watching him started to applaud. Whereupon he bowed gratefully and cut out the patient's gall bladder as an encore.

College Choir Making Debut

The new Concert Choir of College of Marin will make its debut 8 p.m. Friday in a concert including numbers done by the college's a cappella Choir and Ravel's Mother Goose Suite for two pianos.

The concert, to be held in Olney Hall at the college, will feature the sacred cantata "Hear My Prayer" by Mendelssohn, sung by the a cappella Choir. Michele Meyer and Judy Paplow, students, will play the Ravel piece.

John H. Myers, director for both choirs, said the new group is an ensemble of outstanding singers chosen from the a cappella Choir. Admission is free.

Vandals Smash Window

A plate glass window valued at $75 was smashed by vandals sometime Sunday night at a construction job at Vivian Way and Belvedere Street in San Rafael, police reported yesterday. The damage was reported by George Gilbert Haywood, foreman for Roland Antonioli, Inc., general contractor.

Galbreath Honored For Chamber Work

A plaque from the national committee was presented to Galbreath last week at the state Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in San Jose. As chairman of the chamber's state health committee during 1961-62, Galbreath encouraged projects including blood banks, help for the aged, polio immunization, hospital bonds and education to prevent sexual molestation of children.

Galbreath was president of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1960-61.

He's Loved Elephants For As Long As He Can Remember

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Seventy-nine years ago, a mother held her four-year-old son up to a window and said: "Look, Charlie. Look at the elephants going by the house."

And so began a love story that continues today.

Charles E. Davis loves elephants. So he collects elephant hairs. He has them from 357 elephants. He also has written the biographies of more than 600 elephants. The stories are all in long hand, bound in a large black book.

"The younger generation doesn't have as much fun as we used to," said Davis. "They don't get the thrill of the old circuses coming to town anymore."

Davis, 83, who uses the title "Elephant Biographer," lives alone in a six-room house surrounded by members of circuses and of elephants he has known, loved and pulled hair from. There are statues of elephants, elephant-shaped lamps, pieces of ivory, elephant bull hooks, even a tooth garnered in 1933 from an elephant named "Vera."

"You don't find many elephant teeth, said Davis. They come in sections and when they wear down, the elephant spits the worn section out, then stomps it into the ground. A trainer found that one of Vera's and sent it to me."

But the elephant hairs make up the bulk of the collection of elephantiana. The longest one is 13 inches, the shortest, plucked from a 200 pound baby elephant, is one and one-half inches long. They include colors ranging from black to white with a few red chin whiskers.

Most of them were plucked from elephant tails — some were cut from the more belligerant behemoths. Every zoo in the nation is represented, except the Bronx Zoo in New York.

According to Davis, all elephants are born with lots of hair, "just like dogs." But after the elephant has been around for a while most of it wears off, even the tail hairs. When marching in a parade, elephants hold onto the tail of their friend in front and this is apparently too much pull.

Davis started his unusual hobby as an elephantphile in 1928. He asked a circus elephant trainer-to suggest something he could collect from or about elephants and the trainer suggested hair. Davis, a retired optometrist, says his collection "took my mind off business."

But his love for circuses started long before that. In the 1890's Davis, a Spanish-American War veteran, ran off with the now-defunct "T.K. Burke's Great Transatlantic Circus.." Davis sold five cent palm fans for six weeks then decided "it was too much for me" and returned to Hartford. "But I guess I got the sawdust in my blood," he said.

Davis said he "never paid 10 cents" for any of the items in his collection. "The boys have been wonderful to me." The "boys" include some of the famous names of circus history, Frank Buck and Fred C. Alsipor are among them.

Davis knows of only one other man who had a collection like his, Burr Robbins of old "Robbins Brothers Circus."

"But Burr's collection is gone," he said. "It was destroyed about 40 years ago when Robbins died. No one ever found out what happened to it." "Mine is the only one left, so far as I know."

Artists Experiment With New Forms Using Destruction

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Artists are always experimenting with new ways of expressions and new forms of creation. Recently a group of young Argentine artists exhibited the "creative" elements of destruction.

In an exhibition on destruction as a new art form they placed on exhibit a tortured array of ordered havoc. Included in the collected debacle were three "used" coffins, a battered bathtub, a box full of broken toys, several slashed paintings, smashed bottles, mangled umbrellas and other suitably destroyed objects.

The gallery was darkened and decorated to promote the destructive mood of the exhibits as the artists awaited their public. At first they were not going to put prices on the exhibits but they rallied when two heads from a hairdresser's display window — with eyes gouged out and mouth grotesquely distended — were reserved for a hastily fixed price of $50. The bathtub was listed at $500 and the coffins at $350 each.

Behind this strange manifestation of "creative" initiative is a 38-year-old Argentine painter named Kenneth Kemble Smith. He thought the idea up a year ago and has enlisted the help of six other artists for the exhibition.

Smith explains it this way: "The lamentable history of mankind is well stocked with massacres and destructive orgies from Carthage to Hiroshima. Today we are on the border of an orgy of destruction without parallel in history. Can the artist remain insensible to the threat of the 50-megaton nuclear blast?"

Apparently not, since Smith and his colleagues have worked so enthusiastically on the challenge posed by destructive art.

A psychiatrist backed them up with the theory that an examination of man's impulse to destroy might temper his savage instincts and produce a civilized catharsis. A doctor-poet also examined these lurking tendencies. Both treatises were printed in the exhibition's catalogue, which, incidentally, was suitably "destroyed." A copy of the catalogue, torn nearly in two, was nailed to the door at the entrance of the gallery.

The artists didn't even hide behind the traditional lament that "you just don't understand us" when it came to public criticism.

On the contrary, they invited visitors to tape record their impressions of the exhibit before leaving. "Please be as destructive as possible," said the artists.

More Grown Men Now Playing With Toy Cars

NEW YORK (UPI) — More and more grown men are playing with toys. It becomes socially acceptable when they are miniature cars.

Some are content merely to collect scale models of famous old cars. Others go in for miniature racing complete with Indianapolis-scaled courses, spills and wrecks.

Fred Bonner, president of one of the country's largest distributors of the scale model, attributes the popularity of adult car-collecting to a sense of relief from responsibility and pressure.

"Business and family realities fade in the shadows of this interlude," says Bonner, who distributes the Matchbox and Models of Yester-Year miniatures.

There is also the sense of history. One of the most popular models is a scaled replica of a 1907 Rolls Royce. Collectors never fail to introduce their miniature with the comment that the original car is still running—after 400,000 miles.

New Home Is Described As One Room With Three Baths

SNYDER, Okla. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Joyce are building an unusual home which they call a house with "one room and three baths."

The upstairs level of the Joyce home has so many openings and so many views of the downstairs level that the entire dwelling appears to be one huge, rambling room.

One writer described the house as "a skillfully blended combination of sleek modernity and massive antiquity."

The structure is mostly cedar and glass, set on a solid granite boulder halfway up a small mountain two miles west of Snyder. The downstairs level has granite floors and, when completed, the foundation will fuse with the mountain in such a manner it will be difficult to tell where the boulder stops and the house begins.

Perhaps the most distinctive feature is the roof, a series of gables and overhangs which offer protection from sun and wind. A peak rising from the roof contains an air conditioning unit.

The Joyces began to collect materials for their home when they were married 15 years ago. They collected doors from an old church in Rochester, Minn. and a bank at Frederick, Okla. They got an elaborately carved frieze from an old drugstore in Lawton, Okla. One eye-catching beveled window pane came from a junk yard in Denver.

Granite slabs and chunks of glass a foot thick were used in the walls. Since the glass is translucent, the entire house can be indirectly lighted by bulbs tucked away in niches upstairs.

U.S. Agriculture Tops Soviet Union

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. agriculture outproduces that of the Soviet Union by a 60 per cent annual average even though Russia has seven farm workers for every American, according to the National Industrial Conference Board.

In achieving this, NICB says, the United States uses less land (329 million sown acres to Russia's 501 million) but more equipment (4.8 million tractors to Russia's 1.1 million).

You're so right, it is.

How so?

Come again? They don't just squeeze it?

On the contrary. While they're gently extracting all the good, thick solids from the pick of their luscious tomato crop, they quick-heat them at the same time.

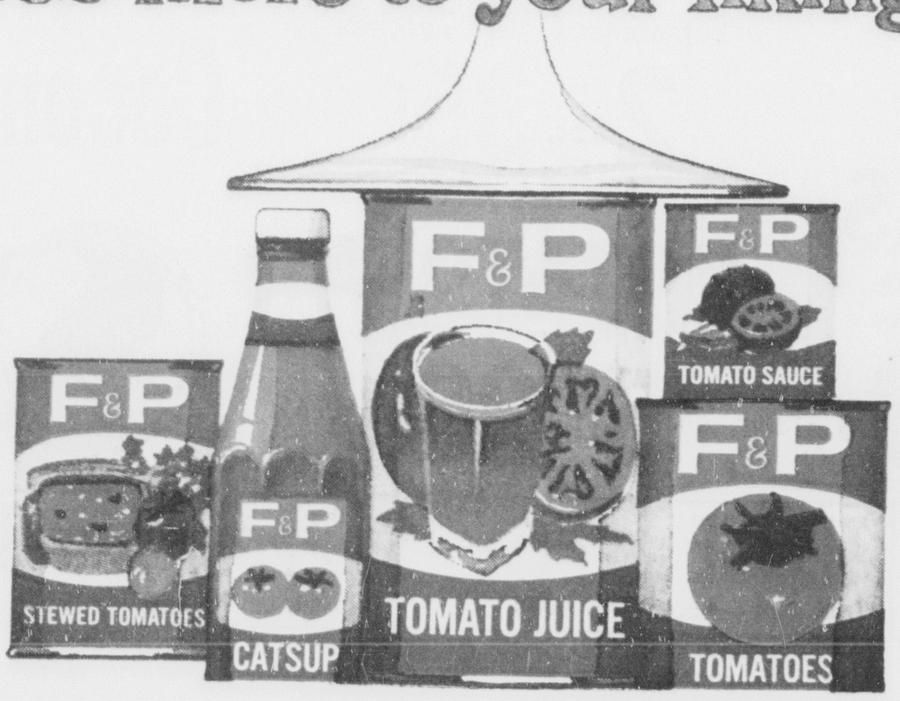
This makes the difference?

A refreshing difference! Keeps all the pectins, makes tomato juice richer in Vitamins A and C... gives F&P a fresh-like flavor, too.

I like that. Sounds delicious.

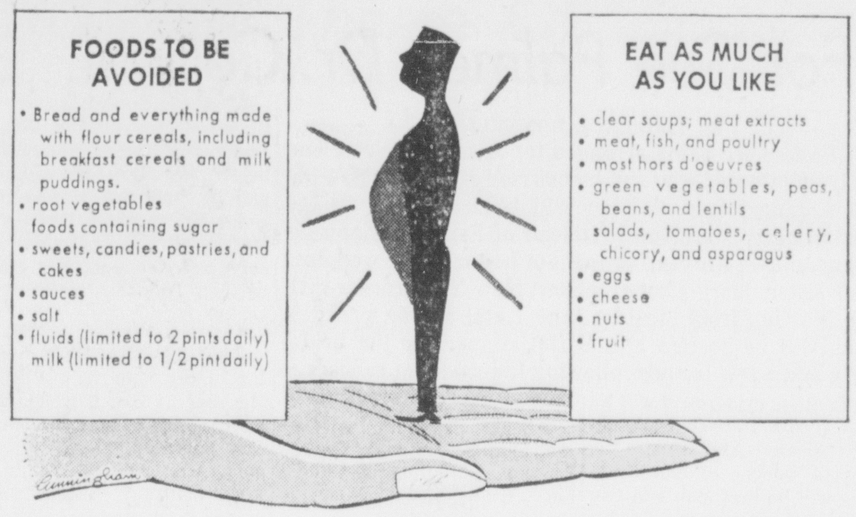
Tastes better. From tomato juice to sauce... there's always more to your liking in F&P.

there's more to your liking in F&P



On Keeping Your Husband Alive

By
KENNETH C. HUTCHIN, M.D.



Although millions of people on one side of the world are ill from not having enough to eat, millions on the other are ill from overeating. In the United States, about 20 per cent of the adult male population is at least 10 per cent overweight.

Obesity is harmful because the additional weight produces fatigue and places an extra burden on all the vital systems of the body. People who are 20 per cent overweight are more likely to suffer from high blood pressure, arteriosclersos, and many other diseases, than those of normal weight.

YOU CANNOT reduce on easy terms. Anyone who tells you that by taking this pill or those pills, or by following this diet or that diet, you can reduce and still eat as much as you like, is selling you building lots on the moon. It does not matter what kind of food you eat; if it is in excess of your requirements you will still store it as fat.

There are two approaches—to eat less or to burn up more.

One difficulty is that people who begin to store up fat become lazy because it takes more effort to move around, and therefore they accumulate even more fat.

Pills given for reducing are in the main pep pills, which, because they take away the appetite, take the sting out of dieting. They also stimulate obese people to move about more actively. One type of reducing pill merely takes away the appetite without providing stimulation. These can be taken at any time, whereas those which act as stimulants are unsuitable for taking late in the day.

IT IS ALWAYS easy to say, "It must to due to glands," but it is very seldom true. To take hormone pills to reduce when your overweight is not due to glands is cheating yourself. You may in fact be doing yourself harm. No one should ever take hormone pills without medical advice.

Your husband may be able to solve the problem of increasing his activity, but a man grossly overweight could not increase his activity sufficiently to reduce his weight without doing himself harm. If he has to reduce by dieting plus increasing his exercise, what he actually cuts out should be arranged on a system of priorities. The best plan is to give up carbohydrates, or at least, to reduce the intake drastically. Fat may be eaten sparingly, and protein abundantly.

The first thing to be cut out altogether is sugar. Sugar provides nothing but Calories. Many people are told to give up bread and potatoes completely. Whether it is safe to give up potatoes depends upon whether fruit and green vegetables are being eaten in abundance, because in wintertime, the body's main source of Vitamin C is in the form of potatoes. The advantage of eating fruit instead of potatoes is that you get all the necessary food factors without a lot of starch. Fruit prevents people from feeling too hungry, and it provides viatmins and roughage.

IF THE PRINCIPAL element of the diet is composed of protein, the body burns up fat and carbohydrates more rapidly. Such foods as eggs, meats, fish, poultry, cheese, peas, beans, and nuts should form the bulk of the diet of any person attempting to reduce.

Many businessmen try to reduce by having a Turkish bath, followed by a hard, vigorous massage. This system should reduce any masseur!

Whatever you do, do not allow your husband to go in for one of those health fad, cranky diets. They usually lower the Calorie intake so much that no one could possibly work on them.

Then there is the idea that you can eat fat and grow slim. This may be true if you eat no carbohydrates at all, but anyone who did that would be quickly nauseated. Besides, so much animal fat could be definitely harmful to your husband. You can get just as good results by cutting out starches without increasing the fat intake, but never, never, let your husband cut down on protein.

TO ELIMINATE stored fat, exercise must be combined with an over-all reduction of Calories. It is not really necessary to fiddle with Calories at all. It is far more important for your husband to weigh himself than for you to weigh his food. As long as his weight is going down by two pounds a week, it does not matter whether his Calories are right or wrong.

During his period of actual reducing, adequate execrise must become a habit, and automobiles and taxis must be scorned for all short journeys. Not only must he learn to walk, he must keep on walking for the rest of his days. He must also take other regular exercise suited to his age circumstances, such as golf and swimming. As soon as he finds out that he has gained a few pounds, he must take immediate action by cutting out fat-producing foods.

The vast majority of people will find it much easier if they place themselves in a doctor's hands. Even the most self confident men find it embarrassing to go back to their doctors showing little or no improvement. Many men find it helps if they can blame their doctor for their refusal of lavish hospitality.

WEIGHT CAN be reduced by cutting out salt completely. This causes the body to eliminate retained water. In addition, those who are endeavoring to reduce should keep their fluid intake down to about two pints daily.

In my opinion, the most effective reducing diet is one which states clearly which food may be eaten and which must be avoided.

The most rapid method of reducing is to exist entirely on a specially designed dietary powder mixed with water to produce a beverage which completely replaces food for a period of time. The formula of the powder includes milk, soya flour, sugar, vegetable oils, vitamins, and minerals in such proportions that the daily ration contains 900 Calories. It contains all the substances vital to health.

This type of regimen is, of course, extremely boring. Besides, the very act of chewing keeps the mouth healthy. It is also necessary to provide bulk to prevent constipation. For these reasons plentiful supplies of such things as lettuce, celery, and apples should be provided in addition to the formula.

CELLIST SALLY KELL

Guest Artists Scheduled For Thursday Musical's Program

Cellist Sally Kell and pianist Aileen Fealy will be guest artists at tomorrow's program of the Thursday Musical Club at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. N. John Anton.

The artists will be introduced at the 2:30 p.m. event by program chairman Mrs. John Lesoine.

Both Sally Kell and Aileen Fealy are residents of the Bay Area. Mrs. Kell resides in El Sobrante in the East Bay and plays cello in the Oakland Symphony. She has studied with Nicolai Gaudan and Gabor Rejto at the Academy of the West at Santa Barbara. She is presently taking classes under Pablo Casals at the University of California.

Aileen Fealy is living in San Francisco and is a former Marin resident. She was trained in piano in San Francisco, New York and Rome.

The program to be presented tomorrow contains two Toccatas — one, the Frescobaldi in Baroque period and the other from the era of Robert and Clara Schumann.

Tea will follow the program with Mrs. Dudley Miller in charge. She will be assisted by Mesdames Edwin Wells, William Vaning, George Leftwich, Arthur Feidler, Hugh Middleton, Eugene Lloyd, A. D. Gough and T. Carson O'Connell.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Delmar Clinton and Mrs. Samuel Archibald.

Designer Program Will Be Benefit For Music Group

"The Designing Mind," featuring Natalie Fromm, Affiliate, AID, is the title of an illustrated lecture to be held in Mill Valley in June for the benefit of the San Francisco Chamber Music Society.

Natalie Fromm is prominent local director known for her flare for color. In a special display she will present coordinated color schemes using examples of drapery and upholstery fabrics, wallpapers, carpets and accessories. Each room vignette will be accompanied by fashions to illustrate costumes for all occasions appropriate to the way of life of the particular home.

"The Designing Mind" will be held in Mill Valley June 7 at 2:30 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt of Mill Valley, board member of the San Francisco Chamber Music Society and chairman for the event.

Medalists Announced In 4-H Dress Revue

More than 125 girls participated in this event, said Mrs. Virginia Porter, 4-H home adviser. Judging was held in the morning along with training sessions on clothing selection conducted by 4-H leaders Mrs. Nancy Porteous and Mrs. Alice Sandbach and Mrs. Theodora Faiola, a pattern company home economist.

Judges for the dress revue were Mesdames Alice Green, Mary Ann Arnold, Miss Christine Spindf, and Mesdames Heila Witt, Lydia Wirtz, Carol Emmons and Edwina Hawbecker.

Luncheon Planned To Precede Show

Opening event for the Sausalito Woman's Club's art show Saturday and Sunday will be a luncheon at the Sausalito Yacht Club on Saturday.

Mrs. S. C. Stapp is chairman for the luncheon, which will start with champagne at noon.

Show chairman Kay Ksanda reports that Alfred Frankenstein, San Francisco music and art critic who set up the show originally, will be a special guest.

Others seated at the head table with the staff of the show will be judges Helen Heninger, Olga B. Sims and Kenneth Slaughter, Mayor and Mrs. Paul Micou and other city officials who attend.

Mrs. Willem Van Lienden of Sausalito, is reservations chairman.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Planned For Sue Palmer, Dr. Coppel

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Parties are being arranged for Suzanne Palmer and Dr. Irving Coppel who will be married at Mission San Rafael Arcangel June 9. They will be honored at the cocktail party Miss Ann Pestalozzi of Fairfield, Conn., is giving June 3. Ann will be maid of honor at the wedding. Sue's sister, Mary Elaine Palmer, New York career girl, who is flying from the east June 1 and will be a bridesmaid, will be hostess at a buffet supper for the bridal party and a few friends following the wedding rehearsal.

The other bridesmaid will be Miss Aurora Tomodoni of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Dr. Richard Dorger of San Francisco will be best man and two other San Franciscans, Sue's brother, Kendall A. Palmer, and Roger Matthias, will be ushers.

Immediately following the 11 a.m. wedding, the reception will be held at the home of Sue's mother, Mrs. Ralph W. Palmer of San Rafael.

Dr. Coppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coppel of Brooklyn, N. Y., is on the staff of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Oakland. He is a graduate of Tulane University and Tulane Medical School in New Orleans.

AN HAWAIIAN HOLIDAY is the happy prospect of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Coyne of San Rafael. They sailed on the Lurline yesterday afternoon and will stay at the Surfrider in Honolulu for two weeks. While the Coynes are away her mother, Mrs. Marie Peck of Coronado, will be with their children, Charles, Edmund, Christopher and Michael.

A BON VOYAGE PARTY was given Saturday at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club by Mrs. Bernard B. Cassell of San Anselmo. Guest of honor was Mrs. Milton Wertheim of Sleepy Hollow. Mr. and Mrs. Wertheim with two children, Lois and Jack, sail on the Oriana, July 12. They'll go through the Panama Canal to Europe and plan to travel there for about a year.

Other guests at the luncheon were Mesdames Sidney Porter, Leo Sacks, Sam Blum, Al Gerson, Sanford Masonek, George Abrams, Sol Rudolph, Lloyd Levy, Irving Sirbu, Lester Levin, Stanleigh Weiss, Aaron Arenson, Harry Castle, Harry Diller, Sidney Lewin, Art Lewis, Harry Abromovitz and Miss Lois Wertheim. The latter, daughter of the hostess, will be graduated from Lowell High School in San Francisco in June.

THE ALLAN LITTMANS of Larkspur are entertaining 30 guests at a supper following the concert of Marin Philharmonic Choir, sponsored by Family Service League Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Gary B. Lovell of Larkspur are also entertaining some concert goers. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wellington of San Rafael will be Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hinrichs. Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Mastin of San Anselmo will serve refreshments to a group of their friends after the concert.

SANDRA MEAGHER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Meagher of San Anselmo will be honored at a luncheon at the Sheraton-Palace by her aunt, Mrs. John J. Gould of Ross Saturday. Sandra, who will be graduated from Dominican College May 29, is a sociology major. She has been president of the Spanish Club, member of the Spanish Honor Society and Student Affairs board and Day Students president.

At the luncheon in the Rose Room will be a group of Sandra's classmates: Stephanie Seeger, Valerie Vaio, Ona Trimmer, Gloria Sun, Maureen Brown, Linda Pometta, Carol Leif, Erlene Leif, Paula Lago, Sally Marr and Mrs. Michael Vance.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Foolish Finesse Not Always One That Loses To Opponent

Since we're spending the week on foolish finesses, let's understand each other. A foolish finesse is not necessarily a finesse that loses to an opponent. You can win a finesse and still wind up in the corner with a dunce's cap on your head.

The way to make the contract is to refuse the first spade trick, win the heart return and then run the rest of dummy's spades. You get four spade tricks and five top cards in the other suits, scoring game and rubber.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

South won the first trick with the king of hearts and led the ten of spades for a finesse. Any objections?

ON WITH STORY

While you're thinking it over, let's go on with the story. West covered with the queen of spades, and South saw that his finesse was succeeding. So he played the king of spades from dummy and earned himself a nice pointed dunce's cap.

Declarer could win only three spade tricks, which gave him a total of eight tricks. This was one less than he needed for the contract.

It was quite all right for South to lead the ten of spades at the second trick, but not with the hope of winning the first spade trick. When West covers with the queen of spades South must play a low spade from dummy.

SOME FIGURES

You don't have to know the figures to realize that winning the first spade trick in dummy will yield the contract only if the six missing spades break 3-3. Refusing the first spade trick will yield the contract not only when the spades break 3-3 but also when they break 4-2.

If you enjoy remembering figures, you can write these in your diary. The 3-3 break occurs only about 36 per cent of the time; the 4-2 break occurs about 48 per cent of the time.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 16, the 136th day of the year with 229 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1866, the Treasury Department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first U.S. five-cent piece.

In 1927, despite the fact that the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages were unlawful, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that "bootleggers" must file income-tax forms.

A thought for the day: French philosopher and author Voltaire said: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Stenstrom Buick
CREAMPUFFS

'60 Buick Elect. $2595
Here's a 4-Dr. Electra Sedan that we sold new in '60 to the original owner who just traded back on new Electra Buick. 26,000 actual miles on this really exceptionally-clean all white sedan. Upholstery can't be told from new. Every conceivable extra including power steering, brakes, seat and windows.

'59 Buick Elect. $1995
A 4-dr. hardtop in beautiful marlin blue with white top. Another one- owner Buick that's come back home on a new Electra. Power steering, power brakes and power seat. All the Buick luxury on this car that doesn't show a spot of wear. We're the only shop who has ever touched this car.

'59 Chev Impala $1995
One of the hottest cars on today's market—all white Impala hardtop coupe with red custom interior. Power steering and power brakes along with powerglide, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the extras. We took this in from a local doctor who purchased it new and was used as the second car in that they also have a new new Buick. 26,000 miles.

'59 Pontiac Cpe. $1895

'59 Pont. Hdtp. $1895
Catalina 4-dr. hardtop in Ivy league green with positively spotless original interior. Power steering and brakes. Not a scratch anywhere on the car. Traded on new air conditioned Buick by original owner. Just over 30,000 miles.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Firm Is An Outstanding Success In Field Of Ceramics

An article in the March issue of Ceramic Age about Insulating Refractories Co., Inc., McNear's Point, San Rafael, credits this firm with outstanding success in the use of vermiculite in the ceramics field.

Vermiculite, a low bulk density micaceous material with high absorption qualities, has figured in IRCO's manufacturing program since the company was started by George W. Maisac and Burnett Maschal in 1946. Particularly significant are its good insulation and high strength characteristics when combined with other non-metallic minerals.

Because firing shrinkage is very low, resulting in high dimensial tolerance, IRCO's vermiculite-base refractories can be marketed normally without traditional sawing and finishing. They are easily compressed and can be molded in a wide variety of shapes and designs. Strength is reckoned at three times that in other ceramic products of equal bulk density.

Important uses are as fire brick in prefabricated steel fireplace assemblies, lining for stacks and decorative purposes. Interior walls at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, are a good example of the latter.

McGRAW-HILL'S publication Purchasing Week offers a few hints on what to expect in 1963 automobiles:

Prices: About the same as 1962; increases will probably show up as "standard equipment at extra cost."

Advances: Most startling gadget proposed is still not certain. It's a substitute for the steering wheel by Oldsmobile and Cadillac—two small interconnecting knobs, mounted on a board that nestles on the driver's lap. But General Motors believes drivers may not be psychologically ready for it.

Pontiac will offer disc brakes on front wheels; Chevrolet—alternators and aluminum radiators; Cadillac—a new V-8 engine. Rambler, Valiant and Lancer are due for completely new body shells.

Buick is readying a four-passenger sports convertible on a cut-down version of the standard chassis; Thunderbird will be completely restyled and Ford is said to be toying with the idea of a smaller version of the Falcon running gear.

SPEAKING AID. An electronic larynx developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories and manufactured by Western Electric Co. is said to be now available in 112 member nations of the World Health Organization.

Designed to aid esophagal speech in persons who have had the larynx removed, the artificial voiceboxes may be ordered in each country through the ministry of health. Orders will be transmitted to the Pan American Sanitary Bureau in Washington, D.C. Western Electric will furnish the devices to the Sanitary Bureau at cost ($45).

Each artificial larynx will be shipped with an instruction booklet printed in five languages—English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese.

Symphony Board Adds Marinite

Mrs. Carl G. Brown Jr. of Ross has been elected to the board of directors of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation, president Clark W. Maser announced today.

She joins Mrs. Gregory F. Sheehan and Mrs. George E. McKenna of San Rafael and Mrs. Edwin Sinclair of Belvedere as Marin directors.

The symphony foundation was organized in 1953 to raise funds through a membership program to help support the orchestra.

DANCE ACCOMPANIMENT

Guitarist Merrit Herring (left) and Ken Wollitz, recorder player, will be the musical ensemble accompanying a performance of early English dances, one of the May 30 Marin Art and Garden Center Memorial Day open house special events. The dances, sponsored by the Shakespeare Festival of Marin and directed by Helena Henderson, are scheduled for 1 p. m. in the amphitheater of the Center grounds in Ross. Other open house events will run from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Center grounds will be open to the public without charge.

Juanita Given The Go-Ahead To Move Galley Onto Ferry

Restaurant operator Juanita Musson can move Juanita's Galley to the Sausalito-moored ferryboat Charles van Damme with county approval.

Mrs. Musson appeared before the board of supervisors yesterday to seek a special arwaste from the ferryboat restaurant until the ground where it is moored settles sufficiently to permit installation of a sewer line.

Her lease on a building at Gate 5, Marinship, has expired, and she must move the restaurant immediately, she pleaded.

County Sanitarian William L. Desmond nixed that idea. But he came up with another suggestion.

A temporary flexible line to the sewer main could be installed, he suggested. This would serve until a permanent line can be placed.

Festival Theater Slates Fry Play

"Thor, With Angels" by Christopher Fry will be presented by the Festival Theater at the campus of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, beginning May 25.

Directed by Elizabeth Fuller, the drama will be presented at 8:30 p.m., May 25, 26, and June 1, 2, 8 and 9.

The opening performance will be a benefit for the Church of the Nativity, San Rafael, and a special performance will be given June 3 at 8 p.m. for benefit of the American Friends Service Committee United Nations Festival.

A magnificent inland harbor and 193 miles of waterfront have made Seattle a great Pacific seaport.
